All Deaths Reported Promptly, Says Pershing

By International News Service.

Washington, Nov. 29.—All deaths in the American Expeditionary Forces are being reported by cable as fast as the reports are received, General Pershing this afternoon assured the War Department by cablegram.

"Due to our troops being on the march," General Pershing added, "the difficulty of checking the casualty reports is increasing, but every effort is being made promptly to obtain complete reports of the dead and wounded."

8-CENT FARE TO BE EXPLAINED BY ELEVATED

Boston Elevated trustees are preparing a statement which will be submitted to the public tomorrow or the next day, showing the compelling reasons and necessities for the increase to an eight-cent fare.

This statement will be entirely in figures showing income from operation of cars, revenue from other sources, and the cost of operating the entire system.

From now on, the question of service will be given exclusive attention by the trustees and officials of the company. The trustees have plans for improvement in service on every London, Nov. 29.—Twenty-one British submarines are reported to have passed the Skaw in a southerly direction. A British surface fleet is near the Skagarak ready to proceed to Kiel.

26TH IN HARDEST BATTLE

New England Troops Plunged Through Fiery Furnace, Says Dr. Morton Prince

By HENRY G. WALES, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Paris, Nov. 29.—The bitter fighting in which the Americans engaged on the Argonne-Meuse front was more savage than that which marked the great effort of the German Crown Prince to break through at Verdun in 1916, according to Dr. Morton Prince of Boston, who was attached to the Twenty-sixth American Division.

"I was with the divisional headquarters at the Verdun citadel during the final phase of the fighting, when the Yankees stormed Bois Belleau on the east bank of the Meuse," said Dr. Prince.

"The Germans opposed the Americans with the bitterest possible resistance and from their positions on the eastern side of the stream the Krupp guns enfiladed the American advance on the western side of the river between the Argonne forest and the stream.

"Hindenburg realized that when the Americans cut the Mezieres-Longuyon railway, the German armies would be split asunder.

"Owing to peace talk, the closing

76TH TO BE FIRST UNIT HOME

New England Division Will be Followed From France by 27th and 30th

By International News Service.

Paris, Nov. 29.—The Seventy-sixth American Replacement Division at St. Nazaire will be the first American unit to go home, according to a report current here today. It will be followed, it is said, by the Twenty-seventh and Thirtieth divisions, which have been fighting with the British.

Washington, Nov. 29.—The 76th Division is made up as follows, it was learned at the War Department: Infantry Brigades 151, 152; Infantry Regiments 301, 302, 303 and 304; Machine Gun Battalions 301, 302 and

MOONEY CALLS FOR LIBERTY OR DEATH

By International News Service.

San Francisco, Nov. 29.—From his cell in San Quentin prison, Thomas J. Mooney issued a statement today in which he called upon labor to help bring about his unconditional pardon. His statement follows:

"Governor Stephens:

"It is my life you are dealing with. I demand that you revoke the revocation of my death sentence to a living death. I prefer a glorious death, at the hands of my traducers, you included, to a living grave. I am innocent.

"I demand a new and a fair trial or my unconditional liberty through a pardon. If I were guilty of the crime for which I have been unjustly convicted, hanging would be too good for me. Then why commute my sentence to life.

"Labor everywhere; I say to you, as I said the night that the Chamber of Commerce jury returned the death penalty verdict against me, that my hope as well as the hope of Billings, Nolan, Weinberg and Mrs. Mooney was in the solidarity of organized labor. I shall never depart from that statement.

"Workers, it has been my privilege to choose the honorable route in this case. That same offer has been made to everyone of the defendants and even to the relatives of the defendants. I would rather hang a thousand times than do as many as even entertain a dishonorable thought. I mean by this that we were to be framed to tell a certain story; the same as all of the other perjurers were.

"I refuse to accept the commutation. Is raw appeal to you again to act and the sooner the better."

Bulletins!

London, Nov. 29.—Austria's losses during the war were 17,000 officers and 800,000 men killed, says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen. The total Austrian casualties numbered 4,000,000, the dispatch adds.

Paris, Nov. 29.—The proposal that the ex-Kaiser be transferred to Spain from Holland is being made in Amsterdam, according to advices to the Echo de Paris today.

London, Nov. 29.—The ex-Kaiser of Germany will leave Amerongen, Holland, soon, for a destination which has not been announced, according to a dispatch to the Daily Mail from The Hague. The dispatch adds that the former warlord is receiving great masses of correspondence from Germany.

Amsterdam, Nov. 29.—General Hoffman, who represented the German army at the Brest-Litovsk peace conference, has been interned in the Russian fortress at Kovno.

London, Nov. 29.—Semi-official information from Rome is that Italy's indemnity claim against Austria-Hungary is approximately $20,000,000,000.

Copenhagen, Nov. 29.—The Liberal party in Baden issued a proclamation today demanding "freedom from Berlin, from Prussian militarism and from anarchy." The South German separation continues to grow.

Copenhagen, Nov. 29.—Prince Maximilian of Baden, former chancellor of Germany, may be the first president of the German republic, according to a report current in democratic circles in Berlin today.

London, Nov. 29.—Following the discovery of a reactionary plot hatched at Leipsic, former Emperor Charles has been told to leave Austria, said a dispatch from Switzerland today.

"STERNLY JUST PEACE" FAVORED BY PREMIER

By International News Service.

London, Nov. 29.—Germany must pay a war indemnity up to her capacity, Premier Lloyd-George announced in an address at Newcastle-on-Tyne today.

The Premier indicated that he favored punishment for the Kaiser when he said:

"We should so act now that men in the future, when they are tempted to follow the example of the German rulers, will know what is awaiting them in the end."

Mr. Lloyd-George continued: "Is nobody to be punished for the crimes of the war? I mean to see that the men who mistreated our prisoners shall be made responsible. But I do not want, when the war is over, to pursue any policy of vengeance."

"There must be a sternly just peace, and never again will Germans be allowed to betray this country that has given them a domicile," declared the Premier.

As to indemnities the Prime Minister said:

"The principle always has been that the loser must pay. That is the principle we should now proceed upon regarding Germany. She must pay the cost of the war up to her capacity."

By International News Service.

Washington, Nov. 29.—The former Kaiser can be punished under the rulings of the international laws of warfare signed and approved by Germany and the allied nations.

ARGUE EXCEPTIONS ON EATON WILL CONTEST

Judge Braley of the Supreme Court, who a few weeks ago decided that Mrs. Ella F. Eaton may contest the will of her late husband, Charles S. Eaton, proprietor of Thompson's Spa, because Mr. Eaton in violation of an ante-nuptial contract made substantial gifts to his three sons, today heard arguments on exceptions taken by Sherman Whipple for the executor's of Mr. Eaton's estate. Mr. Whipple also asks that a pending bill to require the sons of Mr. Eaton to restore to the estate what they received be sent to the full court with the other case. Judge Braley declined to consolidate the two actions, and on December 7 will give a decision on motion of Charles F. Choate, Jr., counsel for Mrs. Eaton, to dismiss the bill of exceptions.

TO PREVENT WASTE OF SOLDIER EQUIPMENT

There will be no waste by troops returning from over seas and cantonments, Mayor Joseph H. Lee, reclamation officer of the Northeastern Department, No. 99 Chauncy street, said today. The army storehouses in South Boston are now being fitted up to prevent such waste. Belts and other equipments purchased by officers for over seas duties and not used can be kept and hung up as trophies. All other equipment will be carefully preserved.

CHILD LABOR AMENDMENT ADOPTED.

Washington, Nov. 29.—The Pomerene child labor amendment, proposing a tax of 10 per cent. on all employers of child labor, was adopted by the Senate Finance Committee this afternoon as a part of the new revenue bill.

U. S. STOPS WORK ON ARMY SHOE CONTRACTS

Contracts for 500,000 pairs of army shoes to be made in Brockton have been cancelled by the Quartermaster's Department, but the government will protect the manufacturers by allowing them to cut one-half of the unfinished shoes on each order and will pay $1½ cents a pair on cancelled orders.

LANSING, WHITE AND HOUSE ON PEACE BOARD

Washington, Nov. 29.—America's peace delegates—three in number—will be announced from the White House within a few hours, it was learned authoritatively today. It was also indicated that the delegates would be Secretary of State Lansing, Colonel E. M. House and Henry White, former American ambassador to France.

Mary Pickford Aids Basket Fund; So Will Chaplin

Mary Pickford is going to send a contribution from California to the Boston AMERICAN'S Christmas Basket Fund.

And so, if Anita Stewart has anything to say, is Charlie Chaplin.

The news came to the secretary of the Christmas Basket Fund today in a telegram from Miss Stewart from Los Angeles, where she has just arrived.

When Miss Stewart left for the coast, after making her own contribution of $250 to this fund, she said that on her arrival she would try and get Miss Pickford and Mr. Chaplin to contribute also.

After her arrival in California she sent the following telegram:

New York, Nov. 29.—Dr. John N. Metaxa, former Governor of Salonica, is here to appeal to the United States in the interest of 3,000,000 unredeemed Greeks now under Bulgar and Turk rule. He declared that the plight of the Greeks is as bad as that of the Belgians until a few weeks ago. Dr. Metaxa is a friend of Premier Venizelos.

EDITH CAVELL'S GRAVE FOUND IN CABBAGE FIELD

London, Nov. 29.—The grave of Miss Edith Cavell, the English nurse who was executed by the Germans, has been located in a cabbage field near Brussels, according to advices reaching here today.

"Liberty Fuel" for Autos Cheaper Than Gasoline

By International News Service.

Washington, Nov. 29.—"Liberty fuel" is the latest achievement of chemists and engineers of the research and development division of the general engineer depot of the War Department.

When the War Department was asked to provide unlimited quantities of gasoline for automobile trucks, motor cycles and aeroplanes, Captain E. C. Weisgerber, a gas and oil engineer of extensive technical and practical experience, rose to the occasion with a formula utilizing kerosene as a base and produced "Liberty fuel," which acts completely as a gasoline substitute, the War Department announced this afternoon.

The new substitute is odorless, tasteless and non-corrosive, and the department is authority for the statement that it develops a thermal efficiency greater than the best gasoline.

In making it the cost is said to be less than the present grades of gasoline, as the raw materials used in making the new fuel are easily obtained, some of them being a drug on the market today.

The process by which the new fuel is produced was not revealed by the department.

a basic rule of this Basement is: prices so low that goods sell quickly:

evidently the first price of $1.20 per dozen on these collars, bargain price though it was, wasn't low enough to sell them quickly, as we have thousands of boxes left; therefore we will MAKE it low enough!

thousands and thousands of dozens of TRIANGLE (some LION) BRAND

the kind that the better stores sell, reduced ¼ today, from the bargain price of $1.20 per dozen to 90c per dozen

sold only in dozen lots, each dozen to consist of one size and style. Over 20 different styles, not all sizes in each style, but quarter sizes from 13½ to 17 in the lot.

the former price of $1.20 per dozen was so far below regular price we thought we'd sell 'em all inside a few days—but we "bit off more than we could chew!"

thousands of dozens would take the first Automatic reduction of ¼ on December 5, but we can't let them occupy the big space they're taking up now (over half the entire wall side of the Basement Balcony!) until December 5th; we need the space badly for other bargains we've planned—so we'll "set the calendar ahead" and let them take the markdown of 25% NOW. 90c per dozen ought to "clean 'em out" in short order.

there should be plenty Saturday

BAVARIAN REPUBLIC BREAKS WITH BERLIN

This fact was pointed to today by army officials as the proper procedure in the movement now being daily throughout the world to extradite "Count Hohenzollern" from Holland and call him to account for his position in the world war.

The provision for the punishment of individuals, in this case the former Kaiser, for war crimes, is contained in the official text issued by the United States government to the army officers of the international rules of warfare as they have been drawn up and approved by the principal nations of the world during conventions of the past fifty years at The Hague, Geneva, Brussels and Petrograd.

Among the violations of international warfare laws for which individuals may be punished in accordance with the agreements of the majority of nations are the following:

Firing on undefended localities.
Failure to recognize the Red Cross flag and emblem.
Bombardment of hospitals and other privileged buildings.
Pillage and purposeless destruction.
Ill-treatment of inhabitants in occupied territory.

The international rules specify that the individuals of the armed forces perpetrating these atrocities will not be punished if they are committed under orders or sanction of their government or commander, but that the authorities under whose orders or sanction the violations are committed will be punished.

It is universally accepted that German troops during the war perpetrated all of the foregoing offenses under the sanction and order of their Kaiser and his commanders, therefore, it is recognized here that the Kaiser, as the responsible head of the German government and the commander of its troops who committed the war crimes, can be punished by the allies under the international law of warfare.

Demand That Holland Surrender Ex-Kaiser to Be Made by Allies

London, Nov. 29.—The surrender of the former Kaiser by Holland will be demanded shortly by the allied powers, according to the Daily Express, which states that an agreement to place the ex-Emperor on trial has been reached.

A dispatch from The Hague says that it is understood that unofficial but reliable authority that "Count" Hohenzollern will not be permitted to remain in Holland much longer.

The ex-Kaiserin has arrived at Amerongen, Holland, according to a dispatch to the Daily Mirror.

The former Kaiser is not at the train to meet her, but she was received by the wife of the German minister to The Hague. The ex-Kaiserin had twenty large trunks. She appeared to be in fine high spirits.

The Republic of Bavaria has broken diplomatic relations with Berlin, "because of the continuation of the deceit of the people by the Berlin government."

The break between Bavaria and Berlin has been threatening for days. At the federal conference in the Prussian capital early this week, Kurt Eisner, Bavarian President, openly foreshadowed it. He demanded the immediate ousting of Matthias Erzberger and Dr. W. S. Solf, whom he accused of trying to continue the Prussian imperialistic politics.

Bavaria, through her breaking away from Berlin, now looms as the successor to Prussia as the dominant power in Germany. She is assured of the support of virtually all of the south German states and of the new German-Austrian republic. The attitude of the northern states toward the Southern Federation is obscure. Prussia, where the Soviets are most influential, is threatened with complete isolation.

DEMAND OFFICIALS BE TRIED.

The Vienna government has officially announced its intention to bring to trial all statesmen and generals responsible for the war, "regardless of rank." The Bavarian government demands that the same thing be done in Germany.

At a Soviet meeting in Berlin yesterday Minister Barth declared the counter-revolutionary movement was in full swing. Several generals, he said, had issued proclamations in an attempt to dissolve the Soviets.

It is authoritatively stated that the report emanating from Berlin that the Allies are about to lift the blockade has no foundation in fact. It is pointed out that the armistice expressly stipulates for the continuance of the blockade.

Socialists Demand Trial of Kaiser and Others Responsible for War

By International News Service.

Washington, Nov. 29.—The immediate establishment of a revolutionary tribunal for the trial of all those responsible for the war, from the Kaiser, Crown Prince and Hindenburg-Hollweg down, is being urged by the Socialist press of Germany as a result of the publication of Bavarian records proving Germany's blame for the world war.

Excerpts from these papers reaching Washington through diplomatic channels this afternoon prove that the "Lerchenfeld documents have caused a profound sensation. The Frehei demands that those responsible for the war should be tried and demands the confiscation of the Hohenzollerns' property as well as the immediate arrest of Hethmann-Hollweg, Jagow and Zimmerman.

Even the socialist papers of the majority realizing that it would be useless to doubt either the authenticity or the independence of the Lerchenfeld documents, have adopted an indignant attitude.

Vorwaerts says: "We have heard it affirmed that Berlin had no knowledge of the Vienna ultimatum. It was a lie that Berlin had advised Vienna to be moderate in her claims. On the contrary, Berlin urged Vienna. Emperor Wilhelm in his proclamation said peace reigned when he was assailed by the enemy. It was an odious and impudent lie."

PRUSSIANS SAY THEY WILL REINSTATE KAISER

With the American Army of Occupation, Nov. 28. (By Courier).—The only disorder reported among the revolting German army in Prussia between Prussians and Bavarians. They refused to divide their rations and to share the same billets. Prussian guard officers boasted that they were returning to reinstate the Kaiser and re-establish the monarchy.

There was no advance by our troops on Monday, but they remained camped along the Sauer and Moselle rivers on the frontier of Rhenish Prussia.

BLOODY BATTLE FOR N. E. BOYS AT MEUSE

Twenty-Sixth in Hardest Kind of Fighting, Says Morton Prince

phases of the Verdun fighting went largely unnoticed, but veteran French officers declare it was more violent than the bloody struggle in 1916.

GERMANS ON GOOD BEHAVIOR.

"I was with the Twenty-sixth division at Seicheprey and when they repulsed the Germans at Chateau Thierry after relieving the marines. Later this division took Belleau station and then Mory, and still later it helped nip off the St. Mihiel salient. Still later the division was lassoned with the French and drove back the Germans at Vigneulles on the Meuse.

"During the final struggle before the armistice was signed everybody was talking peace.

"I believe that President Wilson is merely promising the Germans food if they keep upon their good behavior and will not be deluded whereas the enemy proves his good faith.

"The Allies are not worrying whether the Germans shake off the junkers, as with Foch holding the Rhine blockade he can afford to wait indefinitely until the Germans really have a change of heart. Let the ex-Kaiser return to Potsdam and the people will find a way to deal with him. Let the Germans dispose of William Hohenzollern themselves."

QUICK RECOVERY FROM SHOCK.

Speaking of the injuries to soldiers, Dr. Prince said that the Americans suffered only slightly from shell shock owing to the adoption of improved British methods of treatment. At the beginning of the war it was believed that shell shock was an organic ailment and the patients were pampered and "mollycoddled." Now, pointed out Dr. Prince, it is realized that shell shock is purely functional and therefore the victims are roused out of their hysteria as quickly as possible and made to realize that they are not badly hurt.

The treatment is something like that given sufferers from neurasthenia and has been changed radically since the early days of the war.

Formerly the patients were sent to bed and not permitted to walk or talk. Now they are taken out upon the road and their lethargy is shaken out of them with active measures.

OFFERS $25 REWARD FOR BURGLAR IN LYNN

A rarely good natured man is Valentine H. McDowell of No. 37 Spring street, Lynn. He doesn't object to a burglar entering his house, but does get "peeved" when the burglar doesn't find what he wants there. Then he advertises, asking why the burglar, whom he calls a "gentleman crook," isn't man enough to ask for more the house in question, which is No. 53 Essex street, Saugus. And to make emphatic his disgust at the gentleman crook hasn't done so, he advertises an offer of $25 to the confederates of the burglar to reveal his identity.

DELAY HIGHER FARE ON THE BLUE HILL LINE

The Public Service Commission today suspended until Dec. 15 the new 5-cent fare rates on both the Blue Hill and Norfolk and Bristol street railways. The rates were scheduled to take effect next Sunday and hearings were advertised for today, but remonstrance some claim of "insufficient notice." The public hearings will begin next Wednesday.

Long List of Crimes Against Ex-Kaiser

There will be no trouble in drawing a "true bill" against the former Kaiser if the plan is carried out, as suggested, to put him on trial for violations of international law governing conduct of military and naval operations in time of war.

The offences charged against the former Kaiser in this connection are grouped under five headings, as follows:

1—Firing on undefended localities.
2—Failure to recognize the Red Cross flag and emblem.
3—Bombardment of hospitals and other privileged buildings.
4—Pillage and purposeless destruction.
5—Ill treatment of inhabitants of occupied territory.

There is a long catalogue of such crimes charged against Wilhelm Hohenzollern, as the supreme director of German war operations and policies. The accounts of them have filled newspaper columns and official reports. Under the five different headings may be mentioning the following conspicuous instances:

BOMBARDED UNDEFENDED PORTS

1—Firing on undefended localities: German naval raids on undefended towns along the east coast of England early in the war. In December, 1914, German warships, crossing the North Sea, bombarded the English ports of Hartlepool and Whitby. Two score persons, including women and children, were killed by German shells at Hartlepool alone, while the list of injured was reported as high as one hundred.

Other undefended towns were bombarded in the first year of the war.

On September 4, 1917, Scarborough was bombarded, with death of three persons and injury to five more.

On January 14, 1918, a German warship shelled Yarmouth, 115 miles northeast of London. Twenty shells were dropped into the town, killing three persons and injuring one.

CARNEGIE BRIDE WILL INHERIT MILLIONS

GIRL HAS FORTUNE ALREADY

Iron Master's Daughter Given $2,000,000 by Her Father Ten Years Ago

New York, Nov. 29.—The daughter of Andrew Carnegie is to be married in the near future.

Mrs. Carnegie informally announced last evening the engagement of her daughter, Margaret, to Roswell Miller, now an ensign in the United States Navy. He left his studies in the Stevens Institute of Technology to join the navy.

Miss Carnegie is twenty-one years old, and her fiance about the same age. They met in New York a year ago, and have had an old-fashioned boy and girl courtship. The Carnegie home is in Riverside Drive, and the young man lives with his widowed mother, Mrs. Roswell Miller, at No. 946 Park avenue.

The late Roswell Miller, father of the young man, was best known in the world of finance as the president of the St. Paul Railroad and as chairman of the board of directors of that road. He died in January, 1915, leaving an estate of $576,315 to his widow and a daughter, Dorothy.

QUIET ANNOUNCEMENT.

Mrs. Carnegie has always been quiet in social affairs and insisted on pursuing this policy regarding her daughter's engagement. It was agreed by the two families concerned to have Mrs. Carnegie make the statement and not to say anything else about the matter.

In answer to questions about the young man, Mrs. Carnegie frankly said:

"We know very little about him. In fact, we do not even know that he is a good fellow."

She said this last with a smile. Then she referred inquirers to the Millers.

Mr. Miller, who was home on a furlough for his Thanksgiving dinner, was not so reticent. He said:

"Miss Carnegie and I have known each other for about a year. We met in New York and have seen considerable of each other since then. The date for marriage has not been set and because of the war conditions it is impossible to fix a date."

DECLINES TO TELL HIS AGE.

Mr. Miller declined to state his age, but acknowledged he was studying engineering in the Stevens Institute of Technology when the United States entered the war. Prior to his enrollment in the Stevens Institute Mr. Miller was a student in Hill School, Pottstown, an institute long noted for its splendid athletes and football teams.

Miss Carnegie made her debut very quietly two years ago with a reception given at her home, 5 Fifth avenue, street. She was born ten years after the marriage of the famous steel magnate to Miss Louise Whitfield, and is the only child. When eight years old, and while romping in her father's estate, Skibo Castle, in Scotland, Miss Carnegie suffered an accident to her ankle and knee and she was compelled for two years to wear a steel brace. Famous surgeons and physicians were procured into service and they were so successful that there is now no trace of the mishap.

SIMPLY BROUGHT UP.

Simplicity has marked the bringing up of Miss Carnegie. While she has had her birthday parties and a few like occasions, her parents have followed the same course in her education which they themselves have adopted so far as social affairs are concerned. She attended a private school and was graduated in May, 1916.

Like her father, and true to her ancestry, Miss Carnegie is an adept at golf, and she is thoroughly at home on the links, frequently playing eighteen holes with her father.

One of the fancies of the Laird of Skibo has been to have his daughter own the homes in which he stays. She owns the Carnegie home in New York, another in Stockbridge, Mass., for which the steel man paid $300,000, and is also said to be the owner of Skibo Castle.

While Mr. Carnegie has been giving away many millions, the young woman is likely to be one of the wealthiest women of the world some day. Ten years ago for her birthday Miss Carnegie was given a check for $2,000,000 by her father.

Mr. Miller first joined the Ambulance Corps when war opened and served in France. He joined the navy at the time of the selective draft and after intensive training at Columbia received his commission as ensign. Since he has been in Squadron 11 of the submarine chaser force.

INFLUENZA DEATH TOLL 91,386 IN 45 CITIES

Influenza and pneumonia caused 91,386 deaths in forty-five big American cities between September 8 and November 23, according to a bulletin issued by the Bureau of Census of the Department of Commerce. Boston stands fourth in the list with 2,481 victims of influenza and 975 pneumonia deaths.

Massachusetts figures include Cambridge, 387 influenza and 118 pneumonia; Fall River, 620 influenza and 12 pneumonia; Lowell, 151 influenza and 381 pneumonia; Worcester, 633 influenza and 257 pneumonia.

YANKEES CABLE EDWARDS IS A 'REAL SOLDIER'

French General Also Joins in Bay State's Tribute to New England Soldier

Absent on duty, but here in spirit, the boys of the fighting Yankee division rejoiced at the honor bestowed upon their former commander, Major-General Clarence R. Edwards.

Governor McCall today received the following cable message, containing a splendid tribute to General Edwards from the men whose trials and triumphs he shared on the fields of France and Flanders:

"The Yankee division joins you in spirit in honoring a real soldier who will ever be loved and never forgotten in New England.

"STOWENS, Adjutant."

A famous French general, now the commandant of Boisrouvray, also joined in the spirit of the reception which New England gave to General Edwards. His tribute, also received by Governor McCall by cable today:

"My heart is with you this day when you are honoring one of the best workers in this great war.

"Commandant de Boisrouvray."

Both cablegrams were evidently sent with the expectation that they would be received here on Tuesday when General Edwards was signally honored.

ARLINGTON MAN SEEKS NEWS OF MISSING SON

William J. Goss, sixteen, son of John F. Goss of No. 24 Florence avenue, Arlington, disappeared from his home early on the afternoon of Thanksgiving Day. He was accompanied by a boy named Goss, said to be a relative. It is thought the boys are headed for Florida, to work as hotel bell boys. Mr. Goss wants his boy. When William left home he wore a dark suit, overcoat of mixed goods, soft shirt and cap. He is of fair complexion, has gray eyes, weighs about 163 pounds and is five feet five inches in height.

PRESIDENT IS AT WORK UPON ADDRESS

May Issue Statement to Public, Before Speaking in Congress, About Peace Trip

By International News Service.

Washington, Nov. 29.—President Wilson today was at work on the address he will deliver in Congress probably on Monday just before he sails for Europe. Whether in this address, one of the most important ever received by an American Congress, the President will take the country into his confidence and discuss his proposed attendance at the peace conference, or whether this will be done in a statement issued from the White House before the new session of Congress opens, was a matter for conjecture in official circles.

However, it was believed by officials that he would wait until he addressed Congress before formally announcing the personnel of the peace delegation and discussing the conditions that led to his decision to sit personally at the peace table.

EXPECT FRANK DISCUSSION.

At any rate the President was expected to discuss, and discuss quite frankly, the whole situation, whether it was to be before a joint session at the Capitol or in a prepared statement from the White House.

It was believed in some quarters that both courses might be pursued by the President—that he might reveal the names of the delegates and refer briefly to his own part in the conference in a statement to the people and reserve for his address before Congress the more intimate discussion of the matter.

But just how far the President would go in either of these utterances was causing considerable speculation in official circles here today. It was pointed out that his public discussion of the larger issues of the coming conference and his attitude toward them might be construed abroad as an attempt to force the hand of the entente leaders. And on the other hand, if the President maintains silence on these issues certain Senators—and especially those opposed to his leaving the country—without doubt will abandon themselves of much unfavorable comment.

SENATORS MAY VOTE.

A movement among strong administration Senators to go on record as indorsing the President's stand was gaining ground today, and there seemed to be a probability that an effort would be made to secure this expression before the President sails. It was pointed out that the passage of such a resolution would be taken as evidence abroad that the President's views reflected not alone his own personal attitude, but that of the American people at large. And even though there may be certain Senators who are not entirely pleased that the President has not consulted with them to any great extent, it was pointed out that they could not very well withhold their support from such a resolution.

In the meantime Vice-President Marshall had cancelled his speaking trip through the West. It was understood that he changed his plans when the State Department requested that he remain in Washington to greet a distinguished Japanese visitor. But in spite of the decision that Mr. Marshall will not be President pro tem during the President's absence the desire of the administration to have him in Washington during that time was reflected, officials believed, in the State Department's request.

STUDENT ARMY AT HARVARD TO DISBAND

Preliminary Physical Examinations of S. A. T. C. Men to Be Made Tomorrow

The initial step toward the demobilization of the Harvard Students' Army Training Corps will be taken tomorrow, when the first of the men will be given their physical examinations preliminary to receiving their discharges. Dr. M. H. Bailey, the university physician, will be in charge of the examinations.

The official demobilization, however, will not begin until Wednesday, although it is possible that Companies I and K, attached respectively to the Medical and Dental Schools, will receive their discharge papers Monday. These men will be the first to be allowed to leave the corps, after they have done with business obligations which will be signed off. The last to be given their dismissal will be the regularly enrolled students of the college.

Men who are, or wish to be candidates for degrees at Harvard, and are unable to meet their expenses have been asked to consult with Dean Yeomans. The University desires to assist these students financially, so that they can remain in college and receive their degrees.

The entire corps of 5,000 men must be demobilized by December 21. The university authorities have already arranged to prepare the freshmen dormitories for reoccupation by the class of 1922, which has been quartered in the yard. The first year dormitories have intermittently served as barracks for more than a year.

The demobilization of the naval and marine units are also expected to take place the coming week, although no official word has been received yet from Washington.

CODMAN SAYS EUSTIS HIT HIM WHEN DOWN

Boston Clubman Files $25,000 Papers at Newport: Fuss Over "Spy" Talk

Newport, R. I., Nov. 29.—Ogden Codman, Boston clubman, according to papers filed today, charges that George Peabody Eustis struck him when he was down. Mr. Eustis alleges that Mr. Codman called him a German spy. The mixup followed. This is the allegation:

"Ogden Codman, now of the city of New York and State of New York, comes and complains of George P. Eustis, alias John Doe of the city of Washington, District of Columbia, commorant of the city of Newport, County of Newport, who has been duly held to answer to the plaintiff in action of trespass.

"For that the said defendant on the 13th day of October, A. D. 1918, at Newport aforesaid, with force and arms, did wickedly and maliciously commit an assault upon the body of the plaintiff, strike and beat the plaintiff and then and there with great force and violence shook and pulled about the said plaintiff and cast and threw the said plaintiff down to and upon the ground; and did then and there kneel on the body of said plaintiff and with great violence with his fists struck the plaintiff many blows.

"Whereupon, the said plaintiff says that he is injured and has sustained damages to the amount of $25,000 as laid in his writ of October 26, A. D.

HIGH STREET MYSTERY TACKLED BY POLICE

Captain James P. Sullivan of the City Hall avenue police station has assigned Special Policeman John Manning to solve the mystery of four leather hand-bags, missing seventy-two hours from the store of Samuel Glickman on the third floor of No. 13 High street. Glickman left his place Tuesday night. His brother-in-law, Samuel J. Siegel, followed a few minutes later. Then the foreman left. All three had keys. They arrived together Wednesday morning, entered together, and found the four bags missing. The door and windows apparently had not been opened.

CONDUCT OF WAR CHANGED BY PERSHING

Broke Up Mixed Brigade Plan, Despite Protests of British Generals

Washington, Nov. 29.—There is ample warrant from high officials here for the statement that the whole course, plan and strategy of the war on the western front were changed as the result of an interview between Generals Pershing, Foch and Haig some few days before the 29th of June of the present year.

The plan of Pershing, as related at the interview here, involved the withdrawal of the American troops which had been trained in the British ranks and also a withdrawal from French brigading arrangements. General Pershing's reasons for these withdrawals were explained to the allied officers who would be in a position to know the facts.

The withdrawals were made over the protest of British generals, whose troops had been there for many months, who would launch no offensive and who had counted on the indefinite presence of large bodies of American troops with the British army.

It was stated significantly that the very time when General Pershing insisted a policy of having only American troops in American sectors the British military authorities were asking or demanding that "more Americans be sent to the British lines."

Instead of that, General Pershing created his own armies, mapped out his plan of battle with as many American troops as possible in solid divisions and in his own sectors—and won the war.

Army officers here say they do not know that there was any spectacular friction between the generals Haig, Pershing and Foch, but that Pershing won out in the councils of war.

PERSHING'S MOTIVES.

Assigning motives for the independent and decisive action of General Pershing, one of the authorities said substantially:

The time came in June, when the American forces aggregated more than a million, for the United States "to put its nation." This determination was reported some days before June 29 of this year, when General Pershing withdrew five whole divisions from the British sector. From that time the progress of withdrawals went on and with a purpose which General Pershing and his staff mapped out. General Pershing's purposes were manifold:

1—That the gate into Germany was via Sedan.

2—That the American forces could make this a success.

3—That the American troops were entitled to fight on fronts of their own; that is, as the sole troops in combat sectors.

4—That the period of inactivity since the German drive in March was to the advantage of the Germans and that there should be an offensive in great force.

5—That the Americans had knowledge that the Germans intended to make the drive over the Marne about the middle of June, although it did not burst until about the middle of July.

These propositions were discussed at a meeting between Generals Foch, Haig and Pershing and staff officers of the three army officers. Officers here do not claim to know what was the conversation between the three generals, but it is known, according to these authorities, that the British generals objected to the withdrawal of American troops from their brigading and their common connection with the British forces in Flanders and Picardy.

It is not understood that General Foch made protest, and the American troops remained for some weeks later, and even until the end of the war, side by side on the same front with the French.

As to the British, when the war closed there were only two divisions with them, one of which is the 27th, but these, it is explained by army officers, were occupying their own sector, so that full credit for their activities will be part of the history of the war.

REPORTED IN SENATE.

It was after the decision of General Pershing to concentrate his forces into American field armies that it was reported to the Senate officially that such action had been taken. The concentration of all American forces in American sectors began very soon after the second American division, with two regiments of marines, which were badly cut up, reached Paris from the onward march of the Germans via Chateau Thierry. After that the Americans consolidated their forces in national units and commands, until now they extend all the way from the Swiss border to their present stations advancing on Coblenz.

It was stated by officials that the success of the American drive across the Marne, beginning about July 15, and the eventual march on Sedan, was due not to any play of Marshal Foch, but a plan of General Pershing, which he laid before the allied generals, when Foch and Haig were present.

BOLSHEVIK CALL FOR CHICAGO REVOLUTION

By International News Service

Chicago, Nov. 29.—Federal authorities will make a thorough investigation today of what seems to be an attempt to set a Bolshevik revolution in motion in Chicago.

An unsigned pamphlet, calling upon workmen to come to the support of the revolutions in Russia and in Germany, for "it is your revolution," has been turned over to United States District Attorney Charles F. Clyne.

"At this moment American marines and soldiers are killing Russian peasants and workmen," reads the pamphlet in part. "Workingmen in America, use all your power to resist the use of your sons and brothers to throttle the new birth of industrial freedom."

From the union printer's label upon the pamphlet it has been traced to the the press of the Arbeiter Zeitung, a socialist newspaper published in German. Federal authorities announce they will seize the books of the firm today in an effort to learn the source of the pamphlet.

NAVY TO FREE 70,000 FROM SERVICE

Washington, Nov. 29.—Approximately 70,000 men in the navy will be released from service as soon as possible, under orders sent out by Secretary Daniels. For the present nary the men will be from the naval reserve and from men who enlisted in the regular service for the duration of the war.

The strength of the navy now is 500,000 men in round numbers. Of this number 290,000 are members of the naval reserve force, which has been enlarged into the regular service. About 47,000 other men are enlisted in the regular navy for the duration of the war.

Under the demobilization plan of the navy, about 20 per cent. of the duration of the war men and of the reserves will be released. It will probably be possible for any men in the two classes to be transferred to the regular navy if they so desire.

DISCUSS REPORT OF ALLIED JEALOUSY

By JOHN TEMPLE GRAVES.

Washington, Nov. 29.—The recent eager call from Lloyd George and Clemenceau from England and France for President Wilson to attend the peace conference is given a new significance in the well-authenticated story of a widespread jealousy and tendency growing up among the allied statesmen or politicians toward the United States, its army, its navy, its statesmen and its President.

In the light of these developments those words sound now like a threat, as it is said for the great peace President to step over and shake peace—not as mere between the Entente Allies and the world, but between the Entente Allies themselves, preliminary to their assembly at the peace table.

Then the American editors so well received as the managing editor of the Baltimore Sun and the editor of the Chicago Tribune and the Pittsburgh Dispatch, are required from Paris, agreed in the example of a story so important and so disturbing as that published, is neither politic nor possible to ignore it.

ENGLISH BLAME PROPAGANDA.

Instantly the representative English writers who are now in Washington agree with the statement that it is a part of an anti-English propaganda being worked up in this country and that it should be discredited and discouraged in the interest of the war.

Whether this propaganda is probably German influence or pacifist is carefully hidden in this country. The resident Englishmen do not say, but as a matter of fact, the British censorship and conservation of opinion is there openly termed the dissemination of this statement.

There is much concurrence in the denial with the view that it is far better to let this unpleasant story die out by exhaust and explode itself than to give it the attention and publicity by repression and to open debates to offer to meet it in parle in its undigested form.

It is regarded as a good omen here not on line of this story of international jealousies, as it comes to Washington, carries any intimation that the people in France or England share in the feeling described. It is confined to politicians and gossips and the interested publicists and politicians who have schemes or propose to foster, and the administration now is that it is just as well to open wide the door to discussion and general understanding.

LANSING IS SILENT.

Of course, that astute diplomat, Robert Lansing, Secretary of State, will not speak for the public upon this matter, but it may be stated that the atmosphere of the administration circle is one of definite relief that the existence of this feeling in Paris and London is now committed to the corrective influences of that universal public opinion which will feel and say that it is inconceivable that France and England could so soon forget the imperishable ties of obligation which bind these countries to America in this war.

It appears to be the wise policy of the administration not to smother or protest this story, but to let it have free course to be rectified.

The inner feeling here is a recognition of its existence, with a suggestion that our government has for some time been cognizant of it and is rather relieved than angry at letting the world know of it in time.

The idea seems to be that politics is the core and centre of it all. Our public man say here that England and France, particularly England, are playing politics every moment of their lives. Excepting the vital crisis of this war, in which her very existence has been at stake, the statesmen of England have always played politics in every phase.

Of course the purpose underlying is to diminish and discredit in advance the enormous influence which it is apprehended President Wilson will bring to the discussions of the peace conference, which by every reason of this complete unselfishness of the American policy and plan is likely to interfere with the deep-laid plans of England and France in such policies as unite them, which Wilson and America do not feel to be exactly just and fair to the other nations.

PRICES LOWER IN STOCK MARKET

The Marine issues and U. S. Steel, selling ex-dividend, $2¼, attracted most attention in the stock market today. Business was moderately active and prices generally lower.

U. S. Steel opened off ⅛ at 94⅝, rose to 95, receded to 94 and sold at 94⅜, off ¼. Bethlehem B lost 1¼ at 61½ and made a partial recovery at 62. Crucible lost 1¼ at 52½, but later recovered its loss. Republic Steel sold 74¼, after selling at 75, off 1¾. Baldwin Locomotive dropped from 72¾ to 70¾, off 2¼, then sold at 71.

Marine preferred opened at 115, sold down to 111¼ and then rose to 113, up 3¾, from which it receded to 112¾. Mexican Petroleum sold at 153¾, after losing 4¾, at 152.

Anaconda ranged between 64¾ and 63¾, off ⅝; Insplration 47¾ and 46¾, off ¾; Utah Copper 76¾ and 75¾, off ¾. American Smelting, 80⅝ and 80, off ¾.

Reading started at 83¾, then sold 83¾, after receding to 81¾, off ¾; Northern Pacific, ex-dividend, rose from 87 to 88½, up 1¾; Union Pacific advanced ½ to 129½.

Central Leather opened unchanged, lost 2½ at 55¾, then recovered its loss. Studebaker dropped from 50½ to 48½, off 2.

Tobacco Products sold 75¼, off 1⅝; Distillers 44⅞, off 3, and Industrial Alcohol 98¾, off 2⅜. There was some recovery in the second hour.

The Boston market was weak and without feature. American Telephone lost ⅝ at 103½; Arizona Commercial ¼ at 13, Copper Range ½ at 44⅜, East Butte ⅜ at 16, Booth Fisheries ⅜ at 22¾, Fairbanks ⅛ at 59⅝, Stewart ¼ at 37. New Haven ⅛ at 54⅛, United Fruit 1¾ at 142, and Swift & Company ⅛ at 124. Boston & Maine sold unchanged at 32.

Ready as soon as the coffee is!

The best breakfast —and the easiest

WHEN the housewives of America serve a breakfast 120 million times in one year there must be some very good reason!

Their families love Aunt Jemima Pancakes better than any other breakfast they can serve! Such tender, golden-brown cakes they are! With a fragrance that brings the children pell-mell downstairs, and a flavor that makes them want more—more—more!

And this breakfast is so easy to prepare. Add a little water and the batter is made—pop them on the griddle and the cakes are done! No measuring, no mixing, no trouble at all. Perfect cakes—in two minutes!

And they are perfect every time. There's no chance of failure when you use Aunt Jemima. The flour is especially ground and blended, so the cakes are always the same.

And the milk is already in it!

Sweet milk has been powdered and mixed in Aunt Jemima Flour—it gives these cakes their famous flavor. And you are saved all that extra expense!

Order a package of Aunt Jemima Pancake Flour today. Besides the best pancakes you ever ate, it makes fine waffles and light, tender muffins for your morning coffee. And for buckwheat cakes there is Aunt Jemima Buckwheat Flour (in the yellow package). Aunt Jemima Mills Company, St. Joseph, Missouri.

KEYS PUT UNDER OBSERVATION BY ALIENISTS

Cincinnati Clubman Detained at General Hospital in Cincinnati

Cincinnati, Nov. 29.—John B. Keys, the sixty-three-old clubman, is under observation of alienists at the General Hospital here. He will be kept under surveillance for several days. A warrant issued by the Probate Court, at the instance of his sister, Mrs. Alice K. Hollister, was served upon Keys on his arrival in this city.

While on his way here Keys attempted to send several telegrams to Miss Florence Girardin, the nineteen-year-old elevator operator of the Harvard Club, Boston, whom he had attempted to wed in Boston. In the only one sent Keys asked Miss Girardin to send him some photographs of herself.

Keys, upon his arrival, secured legal talent and announced he was going to fight the attempt to commit him to an asylum to a finish. Keys stated that Miss Girardin was not coming to Cincinnati at the present time, but intimated she might later.

LAWRENCE SALOON MEN TO LOSE THOUSANDS

Lawrence, Nov. 29.—When the saloons and breweries of this city close on July 1 of next year there will be $631,500 a year lost to employees of the liquor trade in wages. The two local breweries have a storage capacity supply for about three months. After that there will be no more Lawrence beer. The city of Lawrence will lose $125,400 in license fees.

WAKEFIELD IS FACING A FAMINE IN COAL

Wakefield is facing a coal famine, notwithstanding the fact that prices this week advanced from $11.40 to $12.65 a ton, which is said to be the highest price per ton charged in Massachusetts. The local coal dealers have but a few tons on hand, and by the end of the week it will all be gone unless the shortage is relieved meanwhile.

Worcester to Build Memorial to Soldiers

Worcester, Nov. 29.—Members of the special committee appointed by Mayor Pehr G. Holmes to arrange for the erection of a municipal auditorium will meet Tuesday in the Mayor's office and organize by electing Charles L. Allen, general manager of the Norton Company, as chairman, and William H. Pratt as secretary.

The money to build this auditorium, which will be a memorial and monument to Worcester soldiers and sailors in the world war, will probably be raised by public subscription. Salem square will probably be decided upon as the site, with the auditorium facing the Common. A building to seat 10,000 persons is contemplated.

Leaves $19,224 Estate

An inventory of the estate of Mrs. Frances A. Whitman of Newton, who died July 16, 1918, has been filed. The estate is valued at $19,224.42, of which $8,624.42 is in personal property and $10,600 in real estate.

REPUBLICAN CLUB'S EXPENSES AND RECEIPTS

The returns of the election expenses incurred by the Republican Club of Massachusetts, filed with the Secretary of the Commonwealth, show receipts of $10,459.62 and expenditures of $10,118.33, leaving a balance of $281.29.

The expenditures were largely for printing, that bill amounting to $5,311.54. The Tremont Temple rally Nov. 2, cost $1,146.20; street car and poster advertising cost $1,109; mailing and addressing cost $482.67; postage, $569.62; office assistants $221.

Captain Daniel Owen, a famous Canadian aviator, will address the Peabody School Parents' Association of Cambridge at its meeting tonight. Captain Owen was captured and spent some time in German prison camps.

Funeral of John E. Eagle

Milford, Nov. 29.—The funeral of John E. Eagle was held today from his late home on Purchase street. The Rev. Harry F. Fister, pastor of Universalist Church, officiated. Interment was made in North Milford Cemetery.

Calls Big Apple "Victory"

Buxton, Me., Nov. 29.—An apple fourteen and one-half inches in circumference was raised here by Elmer Eastman. He has called the apple "Victory." The trees yielded nine barrels, all the fruit being approximately of this size.

Had Money to Burn

Kankakee, Ill., Nov. 29.—Jean M. Hughes had money to burn. He threw $230 in currency and a note for $750 in a burning stove. Now a sanity commission says he's insane and he has been incarcerated in the State institution here.

32 SUMMER STREET

Filene's

A storm window makes the house warmer because it encloses a layer of air, through which the heat in the house cannot escape.

Filene suits and coats are interlined as well as lined, forming layers which keep the heat in on the same principle.

A few Filene values in extra warm clothes are shown on this page.

• Gifts purchased here may be exchanged for like goods up to January 4.

Glove bonds and gift bonds, exchangeable for any kind of merchandise, street floor.

Christmas wrapping desk, where gifts purchased here may be done up in festive fashion without taking them home, street floor balcony.

Filene's

This is a store of useful gifts; why not, since it is the largest store in the world devoted exclusively to clothes? All our energies are bent on giving equally good values every day in the week in everything from shoes to hats. Everything here suggests itself for Christmas giving.

Filene values

$35 $25

Women's coats new every day at $25 and $35

Sketched on the left is an extra full coat of soft silvertone, with a big, comfy collar. The coats are lined and interlined. $35.

Sketched on the right is a warm coat of unusually pretty mixtures, soft and light, in becoming colorings. $25.

Many, many other styles—ALL with convertible collars. Fifth floor.

Women's suits marked down to $20

Good, warm suits to wear in comfort in December; made of heavy oxford melton. The suits boast a pretty pleated back with an embroidered arrowhead.

Filene's—mail orders filled—fifth floor.

Tubsatin, $3

A new Peter Pan blouse for women

What could be better adapted to this simple, becoming style than shining white or flesh tubsatin? The blouses show careful workmanship. At $3 they cost no more than many cotton blouses.

Filene's—mail orders filled—fifth floor

Envelopes, pink, pretty, crepe de Chine, $2.

At $2 one can get one's favorite type—the tailored, perfectly plain except for bits of pin tucking and hemstitching; the semi-tailored with narrow lace edge, or the kind with wide filet pattern lace tops and ribbon straps.

With French knots or lace. $2.25.

Filene's—mail orders filled—third floor

Larger women's dresses

There is a separate shop here of dresses designed to please larger women. They are well thought out to bring out a large woman's best points. They are not merely larger sizes of regular styles.

For instance, dresses of nice, heavy satin have irregular tunics (which tend to add height), have generous revers cut to give long lines to the blouse. They have just a wee bit of refined embroidery and steel beading. In dark brown, taupe, black and navy blue. Sizes 44 and 46 are $29.75; 48 to 52, $35.

Filene's—mail orders filled—sixth floor

Women's cotton union suits in a favored winter weight, 75c

Western women always marvel at the fact that their Eastern sisters wear low-neck, no-sleeve, knee-length undergarments right through the cold weather. The majority of New Englanders, at any rate, wear this style. These at 75c have neat tailored band tops and are a good weight cotton; 36 to 44.

Filene's—mail orders filled—street floor

GIFTS FOR STUDIOUS YOUNGSTERS

The toy shop says there are desks and desks for studious youngsters. For instance, roll top desks, like dad's, in golden oak. Chair to match included. Little sisters will probably prefer those stained to look like mahogany, with chair. (Sixth floor)

School style desks with lids, $2.50. Chair, 85c. (Sixth floor)

Gifts for good youngsters

Jolly rocking horses, by the unscrewing of two bolts, become wheel horses in a jiffy. $9.25 and $13.50. (Sixth floor)

Kiddie Kars in the form of U. S. supply motors are $3.50. (Sixth floor)

Women's new serge dresses, $15

Serge, $15.

The same row of satin-covered buttons and stitched pleat appear on back and front. Black silk braid serves as trimming.

The quality of the serge is worthy of mention—it is good, fine and soft.

Navy or black, $15.

Filene's—mail orders filled—sixth floor

for misses

Misses' coats with unusual belts and pockets

Sketch 1. Misses' firm, soft suede-velours coats, interlined to waistline. Buttons look like brown mahogany. $35.

Sketch 2. Misses' warm coats of sleek, silky zibeline with good-looking "twin" belt. $19.75.

Sketch 3. Misses' beautifully tailored coats of suede-velours, particularly good-looking in reindeer and browns. Fourth floor.

Misses' tailor-mades, with snug collars, $25

The discovery has been made that a suit is as warm as a coat if the collar can be worn high and an interlining put in as well as lining. These oxford melton suits are made that way. Oxfords, burellas, velours and mixtures. Sizes 14 to 20 years. Fourth floor.

Misses have nine kinds of camisoles to choose from at $1

Lacy tops, tailored tops, over-the-head kinds, button-front kinds, in wash satin, in crepe de Chine, and all in those delicious pinks. Fourth floor.

GIRLS' warm lined and interlined military coats, $12.75

Wool khaki, $12.75.

They have a lot of dash with their detachable capes and military brass buttons. The material is fine, soft wool khaki, heavily interlined. Sizes 6, 8 and 10, $12.75.

Girls' thickly interlined corduroy coats have big collars that fasten up high. Taupe or navy. Sizes 6 and 8, $12.75.

Girls' warm velours, corduroy and cheviot coats, many having big fur collars, are $15. Sizes 6 to 14. Fourth floor.

GIRLS' regulation serge dresses, $6.

Red silk ties, wide patent leather belts, white braid emblem, full kilted skirt—all those things that make them "regulation." Sizes 6 to 14. Fourth floor.

Children's fur-lined gray mocha gloves, sizes 1 to 7, $4. (Street floor)

Misses' serge tunic dresses, $15

Notice the long, tight sleeves, collarless round neck and the unexpected way the belt slips through the blouse in the picture.

—The dresses are a good example of the values made possible by having a separate shop of misses' dresses at $15 and less.

Misses' velveteen skirts

Velveteen skirts look especially well with fur coats; one seems to enhance the beauty of the other.

Misses' gathered all-around velveteen skirts with wide straight belts and pockets, $6. Navy, taupe or green.

Misses' Black or navy blue velveteen skirts, stitched with heavy silk, $8.75.

Misses' beaver-cloth tam sets, $5

Big, full tams with elastic strap in band to make it fit easier and better. Separately, $2.50.

Nice, long stole scarfs to match, with black fur ball ends, $2.50 separately.

SALES MANAGE

GILCHRIST CO.
BOSTON.

Oct. 15, 1915.

To the Buyers:

The Mechanic of Boston have agreed not to have any store-from sale in December, which, of course, will make it impossible to hold Salesmanager's Day during that month.

The Sales Committee, therefore, has chosen Saturday, November 20th, to be the day for the event as it is not too early to prepare immediately.

The Board of Directors have consented to sacrifice their profit on certain items and I ask you to attach this letter to our business friends in the hope that they too will make some concession by way of selling merchandise to us at a lower price than usual.

Thanking you for your co-operation in the past and trusting the feeling of friendship and loyalty will continue between us, I remain,

Sincerely yours,
Filene

NOTE: The letter on the left, sent to our buyers long ago, tells how we have planned for this event.

U.S. TROOPS GET TURKEY AND CHICKEN

By BEAT FORD.

International News Service Staff Correspondent.

With the American Army of Occupation, Nov. 28.—(By Courier)—Thanksgiving Day was celebrated by the doughboys in the good old-fashioned American style. Not all of the soldiers had turkey, but there were special services and elaborate programs of sporting events.

The Twenty-Sixth Infantry had some roast turkey, thanks to the far-sightedness of Ah Mong, the Chinese cook. He bought a live turkey three months ago and fattened it up for today's feast. The army wanted to supply all of the units with turkey, but it was found impossible. There were not enough other viands gathered together to overcome the difficulty in rushing supplies to the German frontier. The speed of the Americans' progress has been this a big problem. The regimental band concerts are greatly enjoyed by the populace, and there are numerous football games and boxing bouts.

The Luxemburg newspapers announced Thanksgiving programs and many families invited officers and enlisted men into their homes for dinner.

FOLEY FRIES THE EGGS.

"This is a real Thanksgiving, fellows," bawled "Tiger Foley, cook of the Ninth Infantry cutting six eggs into a pan. "How do you want them? Sunny side up or turned over?"

It seems that the eggs had been rounded up in Coblenz, the German city, doughboy with a great deal of enthusiasm, and the cook considered the verdict that eggs were practically as good as the hard tacks.

"There was turkey for the mess. Here the meat was served to men in the hospitals and even jails.

"I guess we can get along without turkey this time," was the philosophical comment of cook Foley. "We ought to be happy seeing as how we do not have to spend the day ducking shells. We can eat this war in peace. If anybody had told me a month ago that the war would end by Thanksgiving I would have told him he was looney.

"I got a fine roast for you birds (the cook was addressing a detachment of doughboys) and some extras, too. They tried to rush up mincemeat, but it did not come in time. But I got some apples and you will have apple pie."

Cook Foley's spread was typical of that throughout the units of the American third army. Cigars and candy were distributed among the troops with a lavish hand. Salvation Army workers fried thousands of doughnuts.

Army chaplains conducted special services and entertainments were given at the Y. M. C. A. huts.

CHICKEN AND VENISON.

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, Jr.'s Twenty-Sixth Infantry Regiment bought up all the available chicken for miles around.

The Thirty-second Division had venison. The Third Division had a corner on Luxemburg ducks.

German soldiers in Cologne decorated the statue of the former Kaiser with a dunce cap and stuck a traveling bag into one of its hands. Into the other a cane was thrust. On a placard across the back were the words: "Here goes the great scoundrel."

Unbridled utterances of the soldiers and workmen's councils have developed a revolutionary spirit of great strength. The Hohenzollerns did not trust the army for protection, but called upon the Sundewehr Palace guard, consisting of the sons of autocratic families aged from fourteen to seventeen. They had been trained and equipped for just such an emergency. These youths are called "palace pets" by the regular soldiers. A delegation of German regulars demanded that the boy guards be removed, which led to fighting.

SERGEANT ANDREW MISCH, a German soldier who deserted the Kaiser's cause and joined the American army to fight for world freedom.

INCREASE COAL FOR HOUSE TO $12 A TON

Household coal was today increased to $12 a ton in Boston by New England Fuel Administrator James J. Storrow. Dealers are permitted to charge this price for broken, egg, stove and chestnut sizes of anthracite.

By the new order a charge of $11 a ton is allowed for pea coal and $16 a ton for the next smaller size, No. 1 Buckwheat.

The increases are attributed by the Boston Fuel Committee to the recent advance in the mine price of $1.66 per gross ton by the United States Fuel Administrator to cover the wage increase awarded the anthracite miners.

Dealers are warned not to charge the new price for coal now on hand. The revised scale affects only what coal they are obliged to purchase beginning today.

In his order Storrow says:

"As Federal Fuel Administrator for Massachusetts I have carefully considered the new maximum price schedule recommended by the Boston Fuel Committee, and I hereby approve the same.

"Regretful as I am to see the price for such a household necessity advanced I see no alternative. The advance in wages at the mines has made it necessary.

"I am glad to say that the supply of anthracite in Massachusetts seems to be getting back towards normal and I hope the time is near when as Federal Fuel Administrator I can relinquish my task, but for the present it seems best to give our householders the protection offered by prescribing these maximum price limitations beyond which no dealer can go."

BOSTON CLUBMAN WEDS SIBYL WILBUR, WRITER

New York, Nov. 29.—Sibyl Wilbur, author of the authorized "Life of Mary Baker Eddy," founder of the Christian Science Church, was married here to John Stone of Boston, a member of the St. Botolph Club. The ceremony took place in the Church of the Transfiguration, and was followed by a reception at the National Arts Club, of which both the bride and bridegroom are members, and by a breakfast at the studio of Ernest Ipsen. Mr. Stone is well known as a scientist.

Put Locks on Your Autos, Is Captain King's Advice

"Lock your autos when you leave them," is the warning sent out by Captain Patrick F. King, who has charge of locating stolen motor cars.

"The automobile owner must share some of the responsibility for stolen cars," said Captain King.

Fifteen stolen autos was the record for Thanksgiving Day, but eight were recovered before midnight. The police believe that most of the others will be recovered during the day.

"These automobiles were stolen mostly by joy riders, fearful lest they be late for Thanksgiving dinner," said the police captain, "owners should be warned to take better care of their machines."

POST WAR DISCUSSION AT MORGAN MEMORIAL

Post war rural community and church conditions in New England will be the subject of a leadership training conference at Morgan Memorial on December 5 and 6. The speakers will include Professor T. N. Carver of Harvard, Dean L. J. Birney of Boston University, Professor Harry F. Ward of New York, Professor E. L. Morgan of Amherst College, Professor W. S. Athearn of Boston University, Dr. E. C. E. MAN SOUGHT FOR DEATH, KILLED IN BATTLE

Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 28.—The death of Edward Devlin, aged twenty-two, of Lawrence, Mass., on the battlefield in France brings the closing chapter of the murder of Elmer M. Smart, a high school boy of Dover, N. H., whose body was found floating in the South Mill Pond in this city in September, 1915.

When the body was found his watch was missing. Devlin, the last person seen with the high school boy, appeared as the body was being removed from the water and after looking on the remains of his dead comrade quickly disappeared.

Suspicion grew stronger against Devlin when the police found that the watch of the dead boy was sold to George Stillson, a saloon keeper, who later was murdered and robbed on his way home shortly after.

Devlin was indicted by the Grand Jury in October, 1915. His whereabouts remained a mystery until his death was announced in the casualty list of October 26, 1918. He was a member of the 101st Regiment.

Stay-At-Homes Break Rules by Wearing Overseas Caps

Camp Devens, Ayer, Nov. 29.—The green-eyed monster has taken possession of the soldiers of this cantonment, particularly those from cities and towns in this State.

It appears that many of the latter were home on passes yesterday, and saw some of their chums from other camps wearing overseas caps. These caps gave the impression the wearers saw service in France, it is asserted, and made the stay-at-home soldiers, who wear the regulation hat, feel ill at ease. The wearing of overseas caps, by others than returning soldiers is prohibited.

Autoist Is Fined $20

For operating an automobile in Norwood while under the influence of liquor, Peter Lecorn of Norwood was fined $20 by Judge Emery Grover in the Dedham District Court.

HAIL CONVICTED GIRLS AT LAWRENCE AS HEROINES

Lawrence, Nov. 29.—The several young women whom the court found guilty of assaulting girls with German names the day of the folks re- were hailed as heroines when they were hailed as heroines when they returned to their work as menders in the Wood mill. The entire mending force attempted to attend the trial, but very few gained admittance. Those who did, reported the happenings in court to their co-workers—and when the girls came back to work they were greeted with hearty handshakes and congratulations.

The girls found guilty claim that they have no court record as a result of the proceedings. They contend that as long as no penalty was imposed no court record attaches to their names.

The young women complainants did not return to work. They say that they have no ill feelings toward any of the girls who assaulted them now that the cases have been tried.

HELD IN $1,000 FOR ATTEMPT TO KILL

North Adams, Nov. 29.—After an absence of several days from his accustomed haunts, Pasquale Scerbo, who is alleged to have shot Gregorio Palone in the right arm during a quarrel in Loftus street last Friday, returned to the city and surrendered to Chief of Police William F. Dineen. Brought before the District Court he was charged with assault with intent to murder. The case was continued until December 20 with bail, which was obtained, fixed at $1,000.

STARS OF 'FIDDLERS THREE' AND TELEPHONE GIRLS AID BASKET FUND

Some of the beauties in "Fiddlers Three" show, which opens at Tremont Theatre next week, who will appear at the theatrical ball and frolic for the benefit of the Christmas Basket Fund.

him tomorrow. Night letter following.
(Signed) ANITA STEWART.

So Mary Pickford's donation is assured and there is every reason to expect equal success when Charlie Chaplin returns to Los Angeles. The amount of Miss Pickford's donation is not given in the telegram, but it will undoubtedly be made known in the night letter when it arrives.

The offer of Miss Stewart to send her latest photograph to all who donate to the Christmas Basket Fund using the coupon published daily and to personally autograph each one has been the signal for a big rush of donations and will entail no small amount of time on her part.

In order to bring the offer to every possible person, Miss Stewart has instructed her New York representative to visit Boston and make an effort to have the various theatres co-operate with her to help swell the fund and send it over the top.

William H. Leahy, a former Boston boy, now representing Miss Stewart for Louis B. Mayer, also of Boston, to whom she is under contract, has arrived in the city and is arranging a series of special slides which the theatres will be requested to show upon their screens and which are intended to interest the movie patrons in the fund.

Miss Stewart is certainly lending her every effort in aid of the fund and should prove an inspiration to all who might otherwise forget those less fortunate to whom this fund will mean so much.

CHRISTMAS BALL POPULAR.

Tickets are going fast for the theatrical ball and frolic in Symphony Hall next Wednesday evening, and unless all signs fail it will be the biggest thing of the kind ever conducted in the city. Members of all the theatrical companies playing in Northern Independent over the idea and will do their utmost to make it a success, they say.

Persons in the theatrical profession are noted for their generosity when charitable affairs are at stake, and this ball will be no exception.

The latest persons to offer their services are the members of "Fiddlers Three," who open at the Tremont Theatre next Monday night. This charming operetta is sure to make a hit in Boston. Victor Herbert's prima donna of the company, is planning to help make the ball a success, as also is Louise Groody, another of the principals. Many of the girls in the chorus are to aid at the ball.

Miss Meier is a Belgian refugee who knows the brutality of the Germans. She fled from her native land when the onrushing Germans invaded her country. Her real name is Octavia Valoy. Although but 23 years of age, she is one of the foremost actresses of the world today. She did much for the entertainment of soldiers in Canadian camps.

STARS TO GIVE AID.

The people advertised to be at the theatrical ball will be there. And the leading women from the several shows who are advertised to offer to dance with the highest bidder when Congressman-elect John F. Fitzgerald auctions off the dances will dance with those highest bidders.

When we say that Hazel Dawn will be present, together with Edith Day, Jack Dempsey, Peggy Wood, the Barnes Sisters, Bernard and Carr and all the rest of the bunch we mean just that. They have each and severally promised to come.

Tickets for this ball are on sale at the department stores, all Liggett drug stores, Burke's, Adams House Agency, Herrick's, Technology, the box office at Symphony Hall and at the Boston AMERICAN and ADVERTISER offices at No. 80 Summer street and No. 82 Boylston street.

Every cent received from this ball goes to purchase Christmas dinners for the poor of this city. Don't forget that!

And don't forget that there are plenty of poor families this year.

They are poorer than ever in their lives. Widows and children and feeble old couples. The public has always helped them in the past, why is it so slow about doing it this year? The fund this year is many hundreds behind what it was last year at this time. And the calls for food are greater than ever.

What about it? Is Boston going to allow her poor to go hungry on Christmas Day? Unless something is done very soon that is exactly what will happen.

TELEPHONE GIRLS RESPOND.

Three telephone operators at the Boston City Hospital added to the Christmas Basket Fund by circulating coin boxes among the doctors and nurses in that institution. They are Nan Mahoney, Gertrude Fitzgerald and Janet Timmins. These three enterprising young ladies realized that the busy doctors and nurses and other attendants at the hospital would never have time to subscribe to this fund unless their attention was especially called to it so on their own time went through the hospital with coin boxes collecting money. Quite a sum has already been collected and there are still at it.

Contributions to the Christmas Basket Fund have been received as follows:

WAR WORKERS 'STRANDED' IN WASHINGTON

By J. BART CAMPBELL,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Washington, Nov. 28.—Revision upward of salaries and wages paid in all government departments.

Transportation home of thousands of war workers employed in Washington whose jobs are no longer essential.

These two big problems will demand an early solution by Congress after it begins its short session on Monday next, members of the House Appropriations Committee declared today.

That involving the war workers is said by them to be most urgent. An investigation has disclosed the unpleasant truth that exactions of rent, food and other war profiteers in Washington have left many war workers without sufficient money to pay their railroad fares home now that their services are no longer required by the government.

Representative Swagar Sherley, Democrat, of Kentucky, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, proposes to meet this serious situation by introducing a bill in the House to provide for an appropriation to cover the cost of returning war workers to their homes within thirty or sixty days after such an appropriation is made available.

Other members of the committee express themselves as strongly in favor of the Sherley measure. Many of Washington's war workers are women who flocked here from distant points, not a few of them from as far as the Pacific coast and the Northwest, to do their "bit" for their country while their brothers, husbands or sweethearts were wearing the uniforms of the American army or navy.

Members of Congress describe the plight of these war workers, in many instances, as pitiable, conditions have been unearthed which have revealed the disagreeable fact that four, five or even six girl war workers have had to sleep in one room in order to meet the increasing extortions of rent profiteers. Efforts have been repeatedly made by members of both the Senate and House to have the greed of these profiteers clipped by congressional legislation, but strife between certain Senators and Representatives having such legislation in charge has prevented the enactment of the latter.

Assurances have been received by members of Congress, notably Representative Martin B. Madden, Republican, of Illinois, from heads of government departments that there will be no wholesale dismissal of war workers until a way can be found to see them safely home. Congress is expected to speedily provide money for that purpose.

Jeanette Timmins (on left) and Gertrude Fitzgerald, telephone operators at the City Hospital, who are soliciting donations to the Christmas Basket Fund.

Louise Groody, dancer in "Fiddlers Three," who will perform at Christmas ball, is shown at top. The other photograph is that of Nan Mahoney, one of the telephone girls at the City Hospital, who is collecting money for the Christmas Fund.

MAINE SHERIFF WINS IN $3,500 WHISKEY RACE

Saco, Me., Nov. 29.—Deputy Sheriff Ernest L. Jones has just brought down another auto containing $3,600 worth of whiskey. His total for the week will soar into big figures.

Five deputy sheriffs, led by Jones, invested the Iron Bridge, on the Portland-Kennebunk highway and by means of red lights flagged every automobile that passed. Along came two cars, which instead of stopping on signal, raced by the deputies at the rate of fifty miles an hour. The sheriffs jumped into a high-powered car they had handy and gave chase.

The race led from Kennebunk, through Biddeford into Saco. At Brimstone Corner the leading car raised such a dust that the second car could not see the turn of the road and crashed into a granite post in a driveway. Two men jumped out and disappeared in the darkness. The leading car disappeared in the direction of Portland.

The officers took possession of the wrecked car and found it contained twenty five-gallon kegs of whiskey which retails at $26 a gallon. They confiscated the car and its contents.

PROGRESSIVES OF SENATE TO FIGHT

By International News Service.

Washington, Nov. 29.—"We'll fight!"

This was the answer of Senator Norris today to the report that Senate Progressives would compromise on their proposal to amend the Senate rules in exchange for desirable committee assignments.

"No compromise is acceptable," Norris said.

Similar statements were made by Senators Johnson of California, Kenyon of Iowa and Borah of Idaho, who form the bulwark of the Progressive strength in the upper house.

It is as yet too early to predict the outcome of the rules fight, which promises to be as spectacular as the fight on "Cannonism" led by Norris in the House. Referring the Norris seniority resolution to the Rules Committee has not had the desired effect.

"If there is no indication that the committee will report it out, I shall demand hearings on the resolution," Norris said.

The prospect today was that the Rules Committee would report the resolution out in amended form soon after the new session gets under way.

Instead of providing that no chairman or any of the eight important committees named in the resolution shall be a member of any other of the committees, the resolution when reported to the Senate will allow a chairman to be a member of only one other committee named and will provide that conferees shall not be selected by the seniority rule.

"Such a compromise would not receive my support," said Senator Kenyon. "I doubt if any other of the Progressives would favor it."

DON'T FORGET 8-CENT "L" TICKETS ON SUNDAY

Commuters on all lines of the Boston Elevated may purchase today the new eight-cent tickets which go into use Sunday morning just after midnight. There's a decided change in the new tickets and it will not be possible to use any of the seven-cent variety on unsuspecting conductors. The new tickets are a dark red. The seven-cent variety may be exchanged for the more expensive variety by adding a penny with each ticket. All elevated and subway ticket sellers have the new tickets on sale as well.

TRAINED NURSE GIVES RECIPE FOR GRAY HAIR

Gives Recipe for Simple Home-Made Remedy That Quickly Darkens It.

Mrs. A. Jaxon, a well known Brooklyn trained nurse, made the following statement regarding gray hair: "Streaked, faded or gray hair can be restored quick. Brown or light brown by the use of the following remedy that you can make at home:

"Just get a small box of Orlex powder at any drug store. It costs very little and no extras to buy. Dissolve it in water and comb it through the hair full directions for mixing and use accompany each box.

"You need not hesitate to use Orlex, as a sixty-day trial comes in each box guaranteeing the user that Orlex does not contain lead, zinc, mercury, sulphur, coal tar products or their derivatives.

"Orlex is perfectly safe, is not sticky or greasy, and leaves the hair fluffy. It will make a gray haired person look years younger."

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards's determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. Sodas or strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "logy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c a box. All druggists.

Fore and Aft Views of the Kuppenheimer

Colonel

A Commanding Overcoat

Here you see it coming and going—one of the smartest, most delightful styles of this or any previous season. The House of Kuppenheimer certainly has the knack of producing winners—coats that "catch on" instantly and enjoy phenomenal popularity. The Colonel is such a coat, and adds another name to the already long list of famous Kuppenheimer successes.

The Colonel has fooled many a would-be imitator. It appears to be such an easy coat to duplicate. But the convertible military front is a stumbling block to all ordinary makers. The real Colonel fits right and looks right whether worn open, buttoned low or buttoned high, and is sold exclusively by us

The Colonel's Points of Excellence

A three-quarter length, double breasted, short-belted coat.

It has a wide convertible ulster collar and slash pockets.

It has a front that is ordinarily as peaceful as Ford or Bryan, but when converted or buttoned high it's as strictly military as Black Jack Pershing himself.

We show this style in all sizes and in a wide variety of beautifully patterned woolens, every fibre of which grew on the backs of honest, self-respecting sheep.

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA

Use Soothing Musterole

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on your temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister.

Many doctors and nurses freely recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable.

30c and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.

END INDIGESTION, EAT ONE TABLET

Pape's Diapepsin instantly relieves any distressed, upset stomach

Large, oval doses. I feel causing pain. When sour, gassy, acid, gases, heartburn, belching, headache, dizziness, bad breath, coated tongue, sick, bilious, dyspepsia, indigestion, or any stomach misery, relief comes in five minutes.

Pape's Diapepsin is the quickest, surest stomach relief in the world and the only certain way to prevent sour stomach while you sleep. It is the only way to get the full strength of the digestive elements to the stomach where they belong.

Don't go on suffering. Don't be miserable. Don't have indigestion, belching, gas, sour stomach and headache. Don't have a sick stomach. Don't have a dyspeptic stomach. Don't have a bad stomach. Don't have anything but good digestion, sweet stomach and perfect health. Don't forget that Pape's Diapepsin is the surest, quickest, most certain stomach relief in the world and it costs only 50 cents for a large case at any drug store. It belongs in your home. You should have it handy so that the first sign of indigestion, dizziness, sick headache, biliousness, dyspepsia, gas, acid or sour stomach will be corrected in five minutes. Then you will realize how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or a sick, upset stomach.

Millions of stomachs tablets relieve distressed stomach in five minutes, they do more than stop fermentation and indigestion—they cause the stomach to digest its own food—that's why they relieve indigestion before it can upset the stomach. Pape's Diapepsin tablets are sold by druggists everywhere.—Advertisement.

A Dead Stomach

Of What Use Is It?

Thousands upon thousands of Hoosiers, of people living in America are suffering from a dead stomach today.

People are constantly clogging their stomachs with food they have failed to digest, and are thereby hindering instead of helping nature in the task.

There is no sensational statement; it is a startling fact, the truth of which any honorable physician will confess.

These thousands of people are swallowing daily their own poisons, and no one seems to care enough to suggest a means to digest the food in the stomach, they go at all from one bad habit to another, and die.

All sour stomach tablets relieve distressed stomach in five minutes, they do more. They relieve and cure indigestion and dyspepsia by digesting your food.

Digest as much food as you like, indigestion has been cured and you will not suffer.

Strong stomach tablets are sold by druggists everywhere.—Advertisement.

USED RESINOL FOR BAD SKIN TROUBLE

Considers Recovery Remarkable

Brooklyn, N. Y. Aug. 14. "For almost six years I suffered from a severe form of skin trouble which began with vaccine and intense pain in my knee. Then my leg became inflamed and sores broke out which itched and burned both day and night. I tried many remedies, but gained no relief. I even spent six months in the hospital, and the doctors wanted me to amputate my leg. At last I tried Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap and obtained relief from the first application. My knee is now well, and I consider the case remarkable, as my trouble was very serious." (Signed) Mrs. Henri Mauer, 416 Hooper Street.

All druggists sell Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap.

SEND QUESTIONS TO SOLDIERS' FRIEND

American Will Answer All Queries About Men in U. S. Service

The SOLDIERS' FRIEND on the Boston AMERICAN is finding a quick welcome from readers.

The Boston AMERICAN will publish daily news and information of particular interest to soldiers and sailors and their families. Questions concerning the operation of the draft and the welfare of men in military and naval service will be answered promptly.

The AMERICAN invites the cooperation of all its readers in this work. Advice will be given on legal matters, pension and disability claims and similar objects. Information concerning hotels and places of entertainment in this city will also be available.

All persons desiring to entertain soldiers and sailors in hotels, restaurants or private homes may invite them through the Boston AMERICAN, stating the number of guests desired. Address all communications to THE SOLDIERS' FRIEND,
Boston American,
12 Summer Street.

MRS. F. C. H.—When an enlisted man's discharge is signed, there are only a few such formalities in paying him off, before he is released from the service. Transportation to the place of enlistment is furnished under the usual routine, but there are now indications that the government intends to return discharged men to their homes. Details of that nature are being considered.

A REVERE LADY—The 4th U. S. Infantry (Regulars) is in the First Division, A. E. F.

Mrs. S. F.—The facts that your husband enlisted in the Marine Corps for the duration of the war, and that you expect soon to become a mother, should seemingly have much weight in helping to obtain his discharge. You state that his application has the approval both of his commanding officer and the district commandant. Those endorsements ought to have great effect regardless of the general policy of the corps. It is difficult, however, to answer your question. Will he be discharged before Christmas?

Mrs. W. B. J.—War-time rulings are subject to change, of course. You should write the Departmental Adjutant, Department of the Northeast, Boston, who can give you the present status of the soldier.

Z. GOLDBERG, HAVERHILL—The unit to which your son is now attached is not known to be connected with the 76th Division. Only the War Department could tell you definitely at the present time.

ARNOLD ANDERSON—At the present time men are not being taken into the Motor Transport Corps. As you have not been called to date, you probably will not be.

MRS. WM. P. CHAMPAGNE—It is not possible now to tell you whether or not the Aviation Construction Unit in Ireland is on its way home r not; but it is the announced intention of the War Department to withdraw aviation and auxiliary units from the British Isles as rapidly as possible, and in general before any troops, other than sick and wounded, are brought home from France.

MRS. H. H. W.—Your question, how soon will a soldier in the regular army, who enlisted for seven years and has served four with the colors, will be allowed out on reserve, is one that cannot be answered at the present time. Probably all questions relative to the discharge of guardsmen, war volunteers and selective service men must be settled; and many international military and political questions, too, before regulars are allowed to leave active service with the colors.

A. M. G., MALDEN.—You may place the address which you give by writing to the War Department, Washington, D. C. Artillery units have been shifted considerably during the recent fighting. The address you give is not necessarily in any division.

CLEVELAND MASHERS FACE SENTENCES TO 'HOOSEGOW'

Cleveland, O., Nov. 29.—You'd better be careful, fellows. That pretty "chicken" you'd like to know might give you an unpleasant surprise should you venture a casual "hello," and march you off to the hoosegow forthwith.

Cleveland streets are to be patrolled by women—nurses, uniformed. And the tip is out that many various types of beauties will be selected with the object of trapping "mashers."

Another "Meanest Man"

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 29.—Another "meanest man" has developed in Atlanta. This time he stole a Ford belonging to the Salvation Army and which was being used to "boost" the United War Work campaign. There has been no claimant for the latest "honors."

Government Plans to Spend Millions to Upbuild Siberia

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 29.—Five hundred million dollars is to be spent by the United States government in the upbuilding of Siberia, according to advices received here from Washington by leading steamship companies. This means a vast amount of freight will be shipped from Pacific ports in the next year.

Manufactured products of many kinds will be sent across the Pacific. Almost everything from a needle to a farm tractor is included in the list.

While the movement still is spoken of as impending, already 200,000 tons of cargo have been assembled at Vancouver, B. C., and will be sent to Seattle for shipment overseas.

How to Keep Strong and Healthy

Thinks Epidemic of 'Flu' Found Many With Low Vitality

Matter of Precaution—Take Tonic of Iron, Herbs and Roots.

If your health is perfect, this may not interest you. If your health is not perfect, logically you are either sick or "partially sick." If sick, you need a doctor's advice and medicine. If "Partially Sick" you surely will benefit by taking a real medicine tonic, containing no alcohol or habit forming drugs. If you are weak, nervous, tired, sluggish and get no strength from your food you need a tonic.

If neuralgia pains, headache, backache, stomach distress assail you—a tonic is your crying need. If irritable, hysterical, sleepless and you worry and fret without reason you need a tonic. If you are thin, anaemic, "Bloodless" and ill nourished; if you catch cold too easily; if you tire with slight exertion and you are melancholy because of your inability to live and enjoy life as others do, surely a tonic of iron, root and herb extracts will help you.

Thousands like you have found strength and cheerfulness by taking three grain Cadomene Tablets, the tried formula of a good physician.

If "Partially Sick" you may increase your risk of fatal ailments attacking your weakened vitality. Be sensible and wise by toning up your health, right now is the time to begin. Ask your druggist for Cadomene Tablets and take as directed by the label.—Advertisement.

THE DEAD BEAT IS USUALLY VERY MUCH ALIVE WHEN CREDITORS ARE IN PURSUIT

BOSTON AMERICAN SPORTS

BROWN HAS CALL OVER CRIMSON

Brown, on account of its decisive victory over Dartmouth last Saturday, will start the contest tomorrow with Harvard in the Stadium a slight favorite.

While a report from Providence has it that Captain Josh Weeks is laid up with tonsilitis, and Chick has been playing his wing position in the last several drills, Coach Robinson expects the old war horse to be on hand, it can be reliably stated.

There will be little to choose between rival rush lines as far as the question of weight is concerned. Shurtleff and Weeks are the only 160-pounders on the Bruins, while the Crimson boasts two 190-pound husties, and a pair in the nine weights as the heaviest Brown men.

Brown's attacking powers against Dartmouth were varied and brilliant, and Harvard will have to show a decided improvement on the defence to keep its slate clean for this Fall.

Harvard's secondary defence will be improved tomorrow with the return of Sol Goldstein to right halfback. Ben Hunneman, too, is in fine fettle. The third back will be Gehrke.

Art Conlon, who looms up as the best quarterback Harvard has had in a dozen years, will start his third game behind the line. A little more confidence in running his team will help Conlon a lot, but he is already pretty much in a class by himself in running back kicks or penetrating a broken field.

Tomorrow's contest will decide the college championship of New England. Harvard has already defeated Tufts, 7-0, and Boston, 14-6, while Brown has vanquished Dartmouth.

Men in uniform will be admitted free.

DUNDEE SHOWS WITH WELLING AT TRIPLE A

After a week's layoff the Armory A. A. gets going again next Tuesday night. Johnny Dundee, the grand old New York lightweight, and Joe Welling of Chicago meet in the windup event at the Commonwealth. The preliminary card follows:

Mickey Downes of Lawrence vs. Dan Kramer of the West End, six rounds; Mickey Travers of New Haven vs. Chick Juggs of Newport, six rounds; and Charley Bergin of New Haven vs. Johnny Buckley of South Boston, eight rounds.

MARBLEHEAD TEAM HAS GOOD TIME ON HOLIDAY

ADAIR WORKS IN HIGH AND HAS IT ON SHAVER

By RINGSIDE.

Barney Adair, fast operating New York lightweight, received a well-earned decision over Shaver O'Brien of South Boston in the twelve-round feature bout at the Commercial A. C.'s matinee show.

Adair devoted most of his attention to Shaver's body in the first six rounds, landing many a solid thump. Barney didn't get away without getting some of the Peninsula lad's right hand pokes, however, and incidentally was handed quite a few stiff left-handers.

From the sixth round on, Adair waded right in, with his jaw well protected, in order to get to close quarters and slam his right to Shaver's head and face. The last four rounds were chock full of action. Both boys worked at top speed, with Adair's stiff clouts counting the most.

Young Goula and Mike Paulson put up a slashing bout in the ten-round semi-final. There wasn't much to choose between them, and Conley properly decided it even-Stephen.

Dan Kramer made short work of Young Schreiber, Conley stopping the one-sided affair in the second round. Young Bruno was a bit too rugged and strong for Harry Ah Chung. Salem Chinaman, in the opening six-rounder and gained the decision.

A collection for the AMERICAN'S Christmas Basket Fund netted $77.

TOP TEAMS TIED IN BIG POLO LEAGUE

There's a two-cornered tie between Boston and Worcester for first place in the American Roller Polo League as a result of the holiday battling. In a six-played game at the Arena Captain Jean and his mates won a battle royal from Worcester, 5-3. In the afternoon Quincy came over from Boston, at Quincy, 10-1, while Providence was taking Worcester into camp, 8-3, at Providence. And Lowell divided their double-header.

BATTLING REDDY FAILS TO STICK WITH DEFOE

Providence, Nov. 29.—Battling Reddy of New York was disqualified in the seventh round of a scheduled twelve-round contest with Billy Defoe at the National A. C.

The contest was one-sided throughout. Reddy was sent to the floor for the count of six in the first round and knocked completely out of the ring in the second.

Reddy was very bad shape in the seventh chapter, and after being sent down three times with biting, boy was disqualified by Referee Billy Gardner. The boys weighed in at 126 pounds ringside.

BILLY CARNEY DEFEATS POWERS IN FAST BOUT

Billy Carney of New Bedford shaded Dave Powers of Malden in a fast ten-round bout at the Marlboro Driving Club and was awarded the decision. In the semi-final Mickey Travers of New Haven Ct. won from Young Dempsey in six rounds.

EDDIE WALLACE CAINS DECISION OVER BURNS

Montreal, Nov. 29.—Eddie Wallace, Brooklyn lightweight, defeated Joe Burns of this city in ten rounds at Sohmer Park. Wallace won the honors in every session but the seventh and ninth.

Keep 'Em Smiling

By NICK FLATLEY

A Judicial Head Necessary

Whether or not William H. Taft accepts the leadership of the High Tribunal of baseball, it's a fact known to every fan that somebody of a judicial turn of mind will be needed up there.

One little thing, for instance. The Red Sox stars who went into the service in the season of 1917 were not tendered any contracts for 1918. According to baseball law, as at present constituted, that renders them free agents.

So Jack Barry, Ernie Shore, Duffy Lewis, Chick Shorten and the rest will be able to demand their own terms when the game is resumed. That is, they will be if the matter is settled by somebody who would give as fair a decision as former President Taft would.

If things were left to the old powers, nobody in the world knows just what would happen, except that the players probably would get the worst of it. That's what the fans think, and we are led to believe, the athletes, too. Probably they have in mind some of the nice decisions that were rendered in the past, like the Scott Perry one, or the series strike verdict, which held the proviso that he striking players would not suffer if they gave up their quarrel. The Red Sox, as the dope is, have not received their series emblems, however.

Plenty to Fight About

Apart from the chaps who will be free agents, there will be a world of argument regarding contracts. The players whose holdover papers were stars who didn't get paid for the full season, will be on the war path for rendered useless when the game came to its sudden end, as well as the new contracts. Jake Daubert and a lot of others will be holdouts as sure as shooting, and give the boss of affairs plenty of cause for worry.

Then, too, Hamming Hennery Gowdy and some of the others who were over there and will be popular idols will undoubtedly have a lot of argument before they finally get matters settled.

These little things, together with the fact that the minors are more or less on the war path, make it a lead pipe cinch that a baseball war will start unless diplomacy and common sense are used in large bunches in the reconstruction of the pastime. And in the light of past happenings, there was very little of either in the baseball makeup formerly.

Rabbit In on Another World Series

Baseball will be represented in the escort that accompanies President Wilson over the pond to the peace meeting. Rabbit Maranville is an active seaman, probably very active if he's going true to form, on the U. S. S. Pennsylvania, which will be part of the convoy. The little star manages to get in on all the big happenings.

Big Ban Always a Mystery

'Tis reported that Byron Bancroft Johnson has been in our midst, though much more shrinking and bashful than usual. Maybap with the loss of his jo b in sight, he was over here looking for low-priced turkeys Ban, from experience, no doubt believes he can get away with anything in this city.

Things to Be Thankful For

Capt. Huston, one of baseball's real big men, is on his way back to America.

The Braves haven't been sold to anybody for a week or so.

Capt. Frank Cavanaugh, Dartmouth coach and a real figure in the coll[illegible] sport, is recovering from wounds received in action in France.

New York papers, after the latest fight fiasco, have ceased quoting Dumb Daniel and other promoters.

No All-America football teams to be worrying about.

No need to wait till tomorrow to find out if the "sure thing" horse came over.

A Real Title Game

When Harvard and Brown get together on the gridiron at the Stadium tomorrow, the collegiate championship of New England will be decided. The Crimson and the Brown are the logical candidates, the former having beaten Boston College and the latter Dartmouth.

According to the reports, the Cambridge athletes did a lot of their scoring on luck. They will need more than that to turn back the Providence invaders If those doughty young men act as they did against Dartmouth.

Brown has a real line, and a crackerjack backfield, with Samson and Ganon sticking out as a couple of the season's real stars.

KANE'S FINE RUN GIVES GAME TO BUNKIN BOYS

Bunkin Island's aerial attack worked smoothly and it treated the crack Camp Devens eleven to an unexpected defeat in their battle on the Salem Common, 14-7. A crowd totaling 16,000 saw the battle.

Garvey tallied the first touchdown for Bunkin Island, while Captain Hoban registered for Camp Devens.

BURNS WINNER IN RED HOT MAT BOUT

Cyclone Burns got good and even with Elmar Johanson, Norwegian wrestler, for his three-minute flop of a year ago before a big crowd at the Grand Opera House, winning their match in straight falls. It required Burns 1:07:30 to gain the first fall. The second came in 26:30.

PAT ANGUS AND MATES WALLOP RADIO, 20-0

Using a strong, smashing attack, varied just enough to keep its opponents baffled, the headquarters team from the Little Building defeated Naval Radio, in the Harvard Stadium, 20-0.

The first period was scoreless, but Little counted in each of the remaining sessions.

Pat Angus, old Tufts lineman, and Rigdon, a one-time Georgia Tech player, starred for Little in the rush-line. Radio's best performers were Jack Beardon and Tubber White, up to the time the skipper was injured.

Radio twice was within ten yards of Little's goal line, but lost the ball on downs both times. The crowd was a disappointment, barely totaling 6,000 or running that high.

Benny Boynton, former Williams hero and All-American quarterback last fall; Caton, a star Southerner, and McCarthy, ex-Lehigh star, did not appear in Little Building's lineup.

Rear Admiral Wood ruled that as they were attached to the Naval Aviation department of Tech, they could not represent Headquarters.

Former college stars in Little's lineup included Cannell of Dartmouth; Rigdon of Georgia Tech, Lally and Devlin of Holy Cross, and Buckman, All-Maine lineman.

Admiral Wood preserved a 50-50 sort of neutrality during the game, but when Little had finished a winner called for three rousing cheers from the officers and gobs on his side of the field.

HOLIDAY IN GOLFDOM

IN THE handicap medal play at the Wollaston Golf Club Dr. W. G. Kendall, a high handicap man, was an easy winner with a 69 net.

WOODLAND STAGED a handicap vs. Masconomets Ridley tournament in two classes in class A, L. E. Chester finished 2 down on the 36 holes of the links, 76. E. G. Martin finished 4 down in class B.

HANDICAP MEDAL play at Brae-Burn attracted a fair field. W. G. Abears, with a card of 93-15-78, and F. H. Hayward, 93-12-80, were the winners of the first and second net prizes.

SEAMAN JOHN H. SULLIVAN, JR., with a fine score of 79, won both the gross and net prizes in class A in the handicap medal play at Commonwealth. D. E. Brackett and A. Butterworth tied for the best net trophy in class B with 79.

PURE BLOOD

From the blood all the solid tissues take our food and nourishment. Impure blood is a healthful condition it affects the entire body. If you have pimples on the face, sore-throat, sore throat, if the joints become swollen and stiff; if you have catarrh and feel stuffed up if the cannot eat right, think right or work right don't delay, eat Brown's Blood Treatment, $2 a bottle. Its blood purifying properties are unsurpassed to drive out of the system all impurities and make pure, rich, healthy blood. DR. BROWN CO., 983 Arch Street, Philadelphia, Pa. Sold at Liggett's.

JACK DEMPSEY GIVES MISKE GOOD LACING

Philadelphia, Nov. 29.—Billy Miske, hardy young Minnesotan, was able to survive six rounds with Jack Dempsey at the Olympia A. A. and tell the tale at the finish.

It was the third appearance of the world's heavyweight champion here and the first occasion that his opponent was not stopped.

While Dempsey failed to do to Miske what he did to Battling Levinsky and Porky Flynn in the same ring, he won the engagement on points by a substantial margin.

As he had so many knockout precedents, all the spectators were not satisfied, and felt that Jack had robbed them of a part of their Thanksgiving Day sport. The end of the fight found Miske tired and bleeding from the mouth. He could not have gone much longer, for Dempsey was as fresh as a lily.

Miske was out to stay six rounds, and his campaign was fashioned with that end in view. He always kept close to Dempsey and had Jack's attack smothered.

Vainly Dempsey tried to push him away, but Miske stuck to him like a man overboard to a life buoy. Miske was clever, in addition, and made Jack miss many of his punches when there was a bit of an opening.

In close range Miske bit Dempsey frequently both with his left and right. He had sudden gusts of courage, in which he pestered Jack hard, but they were never long lived.

The largest crowd ever stuffed into the Olympia saw the bout.

HEAVY SYRACUSE TEAM WELL HELD BY COLUMBIA

Syracuse, N.Y., Nov. 29.—Columbia's light and plucky football team went down to defeat before Syracuse, in Archbold Stadium, 20-0. Three times when the Orange was on the verge of scoring, Columbia, which was outweighed seventeen pounds to the man, hurled it back and regained the ball. A sticky, slimy field was a great handicap to the lighter team, and a cutting gale from the northwest made punting impossible.

Barsha made the first score for Syracuse and was much in evidence throughout. Schwarzer scored the other touchdown. Ackley did the booting, kicking two goals from touchdown and two from placement.

GUARD RAILS AT STATIONS
BOSTON ELEVATED RAILWAY
Resolves of 1918, chapter 31.

RESOLVED, That the public service commission is hereby directed to investigate the advisability of constructing suitable guard rails for the protection of passengers at the elevated railway stations and in the subways under the control of the Boston Elevated Railway Company in the city of Boston, and shall report the result of its investigation, with its recommendations, if any, to the next general session on or before the fifteenth day of January.

Upon the foregoing resolve, the commission will give a public hearing at its office, No. 1 Beacon street, Boston, on Thursday, December 5, 1918, at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon.

By order of the Commission
ANDREW A. HIGGINS,
Secretary.

Unfair Attack on Brandeis and the Jews by a Lowell Paper

The Lowell Courier-Citizen gives off the following miasma concerning the reported selection by the President of Mr. Justice Louis D. Brandeis to be a peace delegate:

Mr. Brandeis will most of all the list arouse protest. It was confidently to be expected that he would be mentioned—and very probably selected. The present administration has had a Semitic flavor so very pervasive that it has excited no one, either at home or abroad. For some reason or other, Mr. Wilson has chosen to be surrounded especially by Jews. Washington is notoriously full of gentlemen of this gifted race. Every department is plethoric with them. Mr. Brandeis is one of the most eminent leaders in Jewry. He is a member of the Supreme Court. But with all his eminence he would not be acceptable to something like half the American public, for the reason that his type of mind is understood to be pacifist and altogether too tolerant to sentimental tenderness toward the down-and-out. This, which in other circumstances would be virtue indeed, may be sadly out of place in the coming peace council.

The American government during the past three or four years has been more conspicuously Jewish in personnel than any since the Pharaonic Oppression. The fact that Mr. Brandeis is one of the most eminent of Zionists and one of the most conspicuous adornments of his race now in any official position will be certain to figure in the question, whether one may relish it or not. Criticism of the President and his cabinet for their passion to be surrounded by Hebraic assistants is confined to no party. The fact is that it has "got the country's goat" to an extent which it is high time for the President and those with him to realise.

Our fellow-citizens want to remember that this is the utterance of a responsible newspaper in a large city in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in the year 1918. They want to remember that it was not published in Russia during the dark days of czarism nor in Turkey during the Armenian massacres, nor in the dark ages when the Jews were persecuted because they were helpless and made good sport. We want to remember that this utterance from a responsible newspaper in America occurs right after the great war in Europe to establish the rights of helpless peoples and the equality of all races without reference to any consideration except their virtues. That a newspaper, in the same breath that it admits Mr. Justice Brandeis' sympathy for the down-trodden, should raise a protest against his selection to a task for which none dare to deny his fitness is a fair example of the incredible brutality of the minds of the reactionary group among our citizens.

This newspaper, in the same editorial, urges the appointment of Elihu Root in place of Mr. Brandeis. This is quite consistent. A newspaper which opposes a man whose qualifications are admitted because he happens to be a Jew, and because he is "sympathetic with the down-trodden," is just the newspaper that ought to advocate the selection of Elihu Root, who began his political career as the paid agent of Boss Tweed of Tammany and who was loyal to his hire until Boss Tweed was driven out of New York and out of the country—a fugitive from justice. Root's career since has been notorious as the agent of the corporations in their anti-social, anti-democratic undertakings. If the President should "rake the country with a fine tooth comb" he would not find a man more unfit to represent American ideals than Elihu Root.

General Petain's Eloquent Order to French Armies

The AMERICAN urges all its readers to ponder carefully and preserve for future reference the following order of the day which was issued by General Petain, the French commander-in-chief, on the day following the signing of the armistice:

To the French Armies:

During long months you have fought. History will record the tenacity and fierce energy displayed during these four years by our country which had to vanquish in order not to die.

Tomorrow, in order to better dictate peace, you are going to carry your arms as far as the Rhine. Into that land of Alsace-Lorraine that is so dear to us you will march as liberators. You will go further: all the way into Germany to occupy lands which are the necessary guarantees of just reparation.

France has suffered in her ravaged fields and in her ruined villages. The freed provinces have had to submit to intolerable vexations and odious outrages, but you are not to answer these crimes by the commission of violences, which, under the spur of your resentment, may seem to you legitimate.

You are to remain under discipline and to show respect to persons and property. You will know, after having vanquished your adversary by force of arms, how to impress him further by the dignity of your attitude, and the world will not know which to admire most, your conduct in success or your heroism in fighting.

I address a fond and affectionate greeting to our dead, whose sacrifices gave us the victory. And I send a message of salutation, full of sad affection, to the fathers, to the mothers, to the widows and orphans of France, who, in these days of national joy, dry their tears for a moment to acclaim the triumph of our arms. I bow my head before your magnificent flags.

Vive la France!

(Signed) PETAIN.

This is the soundest and most eloquent piece of military literature that has come out of the war, and it will be embalmed in history along with the noble "With malice towards none, with charity for all" of Abraham Lincoln's second inaugural address. It emphasizes a contrast which will be remembered for generations, to the indelible shame of Germany and the glory of France.

It must rejoice every true American patriot to know that this chivalrous and truly Christian spirit shown in the hour of triumph by tortured and bleeding France is the overwhelmingly prevalent spirit of our own army and nation also. Under the leadership of Woodrow Wilson, we entered the war not for revenge, but for the overthrow of oppression and the deliverance of the oppressed, and our soldiers in France, though assailed by hellish devices of savage warfare and forced to use similar weapons in self-defence, have never failed to be gentle to non-combatants and generous to the vanquished.

These are the policies that make for permanent peace as inevitably as vengeful reprisals sow the seeds of future wars.

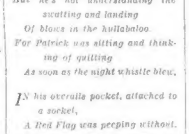
Concerning a Red Flag

By Gene Fowler

NOW, Patrick McCarty, so healthy and hearty,
Is loyal and steadfast and true.
But he's not understanding the swatting and landing
Of blocks in the hullabaloo.
For Patrick was sitting and thinking of quitting
As soon as the night whistle blew,

IN his overalls pocket, attached to a socket,
A Red Flag was peeping without.
When along came a crowd, sir, and muttered aloud, sir:
"There's one of them Reds — nary doubt!"
It was followed by flailing and kicking and twisting,
With Pat in the midst of the bout.



"FAITH, and why was your for-man?" asked Patrick's old woman.
Said Patrick, while rubbing his sprained;
"I'm a trifle rheumatic, but all dimocratic,
As anyman knows what has brains.
The flag of McCarty belongs to no party—
'Tis for jiggin' thim Narrow Gauge trains!"

GEORGE McMANUS.
AUTHOR OF 'Bringing Up Father'
MY DEAR George.
TWO OR three times.
IN THE last week.
I'VE BEEN in to see you.
UP IN your office.
BUT YOU weren't in.
AND ONE time.
I SAW Jiggs and Maggie.
ON THE drawing board.
JUST HALF drawn.
AND I waited around.
FOR YOU to come back.
BUT YOU didn't.
AND I asked Jiggs.
IF HE knew where you'd gone.
AND JIGGS said.
THAT HE had an idea
I MICHT find you.
DOWN AT Dinty Moore's
AND IF I did,
WOULD I send you back
TO FINISH the clothes.
YOU WERE drawing on him.
BECAUSE HE said.
THAT IN a little while.
THE JANITOR would come
AND HE'D open all the windows
AND HE understood.
IT WAS cold outside.
AND ALL of this stuff.
I'M TELLING you now.
IS WHAT the young lady said,
THAT JIGS would say.
IF YOU'D finished his head.
AND I left a note.
WITH THE same young lady.
AND YOU haven't answered.
AND THERE'S a man.
WHO LIVES in New Jersey.
AND LIKES our stuff.
AND HE'S written me.
TO ASK you.
IF YOU will tell him.
WHAT STORE it is.
WHERE THE gentle Maggie.
BUYS THE rolling pins.
THAT SHE uses on Jiggs.
WHEN HE wants to go out.
OR WANTS to stay in.
OR WHATEVER it is.
THAT HE'S always doing.
TO GET into trouble.
BECAUSE THIS man says.
THAT HE and his wife.
HAVE BEEN trying for years,
TO BUY rolling pins.
WITH HANDLES on them.
THAT WON'T come off.
AND HE says he's noticed.
THAT THE rolling pins.
THAT MAGGIE uses.
ARE SOLID affairs.
AND DON'T come apart.
WHEN SHE beats up Jiggs.
AND, OF course, I know.
WE'RE TAKING a chance.
IN LETTING him know.
BUT WE should worry.
HE'S A married man.
AND HE knows his wife.
AND WE don't.

I THANK you.

Major Gen. Crozier

By A. E. George

MAJOR-GENERAL WILLIAM CROZIER, who has commanded the Northeastern Department for many months, will be relieved January 1.

He succeeded Brigadier-General John W. Ruckman, who was transferred to the North Atlantic Coast Artillery.

General Crozier, after a long service as chief of ordnance, soon took up the detail work of the Northeastern Department. He has proved himself an able and careful administrator. It was during his term that the headquarters were removed from Huntington avenue to their present quarters on Chauncy street.

He managed this transfer. By his excellent ability he helped to adjust the confusion incident to the removal of a large department in a few days.

This may seem to be a little matter, but to those who know what it entailed it tested his gift of administration.

Probably no man in the army is more qualified to serve as a army delegate to the peace conference at Versailles. He was a delegates to the first Hague conference. His participation in that conference showed that America had an able and conscientious member present, who could discuss with intelligence the issues before it.

General Crozier has made a study of The Hague conferences. He is well posted. His knowledge cannot but help to be of great profit to those who are going over to this memorable event.

Many of his friends who know the modesty of the General, as well as his ability, would rejoice to know that he was a delegate to this forthcoming conference.

Boston has valued his services. They have been given with rare skill and judgment in his quiet, effective way.

Among the generals who have served this department in Boston no one will leave a more effective administration behind him than General Crozier.

LONGEST OF ALL WARS; AGAINST INSECTS

By Garrett P. Serviss

A CORRESPONDENT asks how a worm can get air, or live without air, in the core of an apple. It is the oxygen in the air which is the essential element for the support of life, and the slight quantity of oxygen needed by the worm in the apple could penetrate into the core, for there is a passage beginning directly under the skin of the apple, or even open at the end, which follows the axis of the fruit, and leads to the gallery where the worm works.

Besides, there are certain simple organisms, especially many bacteria, which are called "anaerobic" because they can live without air, i.e., without free oxygen. A process equivalent in its effects to the respiration of the higher plants and animals occurs in some of these organisms which are cut off from oxygen. This process is called "anaerobic respiration," and consists in the chemical decomposition of sugar, and the consequent release of energy in the form of heat.

About Apple Worms

The "apple worm" is one of the most interesting as well as most destructive of man's insect enemies. Its ancestors, like our own, came from Europe, but relatively late, for Dr. F. E. Lutz fixes the date of their introduction at about 1750. The so-called worm is the insect in its larval stage.

In the preceding winged stage it is a little moth, or "miller," spreading its silken sails over a width of about three-quarters of an inch, and is called the "codling moth." Its general color is grayish-brown, so like the speckled bark of an apple tree that close inspection is needed to reveal it when it sits at rest.

A Winter Campaign

I should think that the campaign might be made a Winter one, although the custom is to wait until Spring—apple-blossom time—and then attack the moths. But in the Winter the enemy can be destroyed in his larval stage, when he has not the advantage of his sheeny aeroplanes to help him off. When, in the Autumn, the worm has gorged himself in the apple and attained his fullest girth, he crawls forth, and spins a cocoon, a comfortable, silk-lined Winter basket-home, which he half conceals in crotches, holes, cracks, places under the bark, or under objects lying on the ground near the trees, and there he enjoys his slumbers, dreaming of the glorious transformation that awaits him when the apple orchards shall be filled with perfume and color, while Spring descends, "veiled in a shower of shadowing roses." Then, with his beautiful gray-bronze wings a-spread, he will sail, a Beebooter of the atmosphere, in search of floral coves in the tropics of the orchard.

That, it seems to me, should be a good time to exterminate him, when he is stupefied in his trenches. I don't know whether the plan has ever been tried, but if I were a pomiculturist I should essay it. Hunt up his cocoons in the places where experience shows that he is most likely to locate them, and burn them, deluge them with poison, or in any way found most convenient rid the earth of them. This world is not big enough for so many insects, and one of the first that ought to go is the codling moth with his crawling, boring, devouring offspring.

The moths that come forth in the Spring begin by laying eggs no larger than small pinheads. The eggs of the first generation are mostly deposited on twigs and leaves, and few on the nascent apple.

"HONEYMOON YACHT" RUNS TRUE TO FORM

They made a ship of war of the old Vanderbilt yacht, "The Warrior," on which at least four couples of national prominence spent their honeymoons. Recently the vessel, which flies the British flag, was stationed in the Potomac River, near Washington. How the ship has again sprung into fame as the home of romance and how her flag lieutenant has captured an heiress trained for a brilliant international match will be described in a special article in the next

Ocean Supremacy, Where? In the U. S. A.—s. v. p. England, Wonderful Island. U. S. A. Big Continent.

—By Arthur Brisbane—

(Copyright, 1918.)

It is thankfulness after Thanksgiving that counts.

If you are old, look at Theodore N. Vail, past seventy, chosen by Mr. Burleson to manage telephones, telegraphs and cables for the United States. A few years ago Vail was building trolleys in the Argentine, and knew nothing about telegraphs.

AGE DOES NOT PREVENT ACQUIRING NEW KNOWLEDGE AND POWER.

Many young minds in old bodies.

If you are young, be thankful for a whole life ahead to study the world in its most interesting development.

Originally, religion was government. News from Europe indicates that government intends to put religion aside and rule the world without its supernatural partner. That's an important change, man relying on his own feeble mind, and sense of justice. It is like a small child out walking alone.

As an American, be thankful for this country, a world in itself. In Texas you have territory about equal to the German Empire. And Texas, intensively cultivated, could feed all the populations of the earth—only about fifteen hundred million human beings.

Be thankful for oceans on both sides and United States determination to be the great shipping power and control those oceans. Winston Churchill of England, grandson of Jerome, a New York stock broker, says that England, of course, will maintain supremacy at sea. He is mistaken. The country of his grandfather will have supremacy at sea, and in the air, for peace purposes more important than the water.

This country reads with satisfaction that twelve thousand flying machines built for war will be kept flying for the postoffice; ready for war work, should justice demand it, with trained flyers in aviation uniforms.

When the English lord boasted, "I have fifty thousand sheep," the Hungarian nobleman answered, "Very interesting. I have that number of shepherds."

Carrying mails through the air, shipping all products of the United States on ships owned by the United States people juggling out a great additional battleship fleet to the tune of six hundred millions more, "in case of accident," this country, with world wide, ceaseless submarine, flying and other ships, will have as many captains as any other nation will have sailors.

England is a good friend, a wonderful little island. She cannot develop too rapidly to suit us.

But this is a big continent, and when you talk about "SUPREMACY" it is reasonable for this country to decline, politely, any number two position.

The United States is buying from Panama the little island of Taboga at the mouth of the canal. The island will be fortified with big American guns, and made a base for dynamite-carrying flying machines.

Having appropriated fifty-seven billions and registered thirteen million men to make this outside world safe for democracy, Uncle Sam intends to make THIS continent safe for Americans. A good idea.

Do we mistrust anybody? No, indeed, but we are as wise as the thoughtful colored lady of Charleston.

Before the earthquake she went to the brick church.

During the earthquake many brick buildings fell, while wooden buildings stood.

And after the earthquake she moved to a wooden church.

"Don't you trust the Lord?" asked her pastor.

"Yes, I trust Him, but I don't believe in fooling with Him."

This country has learned something from the recent earthquake. We trust in peace, but don't believe in fooling with it.

Let it be remembered in connection with supremacy at sea and safety on land that supremacy, safety and independence of the coaling stations of other nations is locked up in the oil underground.

Any ship with a Diesel engine burning oil can sail all around the earth and ten thousand miles farther without taking on fuel.

The great fuel oil supplies are underground in the territory of our good friends the Mexicans, and fortunately they are largely owned, with good title, by United States concerns.

Let us remember that, and make sure that Mexico is not ill treated by any foreign power—twenty thousand American flying machines will fix that.

And the same flying machines will help to maintain Mexican and United States friendship. A powerful man or nation keeps friends easily.
